WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—The White House announced today that President Truman will make a statement on the threatened nationwide rail strike at 4 p.m. (EDT).

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, August 25.—The heads of two big rail unions today denied that they had broken a "no-strike" pledge to President Truman in calling a nationwide railroad strike for 6 a. m. local time Monday.

W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Roy O. Hughes, head of the order of Railway Conductors, said in a telegram to the White House that such a charge was "100 percent false."

The unions' statement came in response to Mr. Truman's declaration at his news conference Thursday that the two brotherhoods had broken faith with him by calling the walkout within an hour after they had assured him there would be no stoppage.

Telegraph Response
The telegraph response of the two unions to the president's assertion said:

Rather an unusual farm scene was noted in Wilmington township, Thursday evening. A farmer was plowing a field, and the plow was drawn by a three horse hitch.

Trees around the county are taking on fall hues rather early this year. Numerous trees are noted where the leaves are already colored, and some have leaves that have turned a brilliant red hue.

Installation of a number of new sidewalks adjacent to business houses about the city is currently in progress. Some of the walks were quite dangerous and need replacing badly.

Crossing 38th Parallel In Korea To Be U.N. Decision

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The United States will leave it entirely to the United Nations to determine whether UN forces shall go north of the 38th parallel in Korea when the "big push" gets rolling.

Top diplomatic quarters concede today that the UN decision will be one of the most difficult in its existence, but point out that only the world organization can make it after enough ground forces have arrived to launch a counter-offensive.

The time of decision is likely to be months away and the world situation, including Russia's relation to the UN, may be on an entirely different basis.

Assuming that Russia remains a UN member at that time, a new (Continued on Page Two)

Attempts Reported
In Office Buildings

Several young burglars some time after offices were closed for the day on Thursday, but before 7:20 p. m. Thursday, entered several offices and attempted to enter others in the Lawrence Savings & Trust company and the Johnson buildings, on East Washington street, but so far as police could learn no valuable were stolen. In one office, the burglars failed to find a considerable amount of money cached there.

The discovery was made by George Patterson who has a realty office in the Lawrence Savings & Trust company building. He summoned police after he found burglars had been in his office.

The burglars used a screw driver or small bar to attempt to enter the offices of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, Attorney Walter A. Kiefer, W. J. Cartwright, Investors Services, Inc., and Castle View Burial company.

At Johnson Building
Eugene Mayfield of the Massachusetts Protective association and Revere Life Insurance companies, Johnson building, telephoned police 15 minutes after Patterson communicated with the police concerning the L. S. & T. building.

Police found the burglars had entered the office of Harry M. Rosen, optometrist, and attempted to enter Grace's Beauty shop. When the operator of the latter place heard a noise at the door she opened it and asked two young men, who were outside, what they wanted. They replied "nothing" and left. Miss Anna Capp, employee of Frances Beauty shop, told police she saw three young men running (Continued on Page Two)

For Korean Service

(BULLETIN)

HONG KONG, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Nearly 2,000 of Great Britain's toughest fighting men—the skinted "Ladies from Hell"—sailed from Hong Kong tonight for the Korean fighting front.

The famed Scotch regiment—made up of residents of Argyll and Sutherland counties—got its nickname in World War I when its members marched into battle to the accompaniment of swirling bagpipes and in full kilts.

"Piped Aboard"
Tonight, in full ceremonial uniform, the regiment was piped aboard the aircraft carrier Unicorn and the cruiser Ceylon as Spitfire planes dipped their wings in salute overhead.

Malcolm MacDonald, British commissioner for southeast Asia, told the group that so far most of the harsh land fighting in Korea has been done by Americans and South Koreans.

But, he added, it is "now up to you to show the world the valor and unconquerable spirit of the British."

English naval units have taken part in the shelling and the blockade of the North Korean coast almost since the moment the United Nations decided to support the (Continued on Page Two)

Bridges Will Be Released

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Harry Bridges is expected to get out of jail today.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco ordered the C.I.O. Longshore leader freed on bail yesterday but legal technicalities prevented his immediate release.

The Federal District Court is to convene at 10 a.m. (PDT) today, and $25,000 bail for the fiery labor figure is expected to be approved as soon as the Circuit Court decision is received.

Bridges has spent 20 days in jail since his bail was revoked by Federal Judge George B. Harris after the government charged Bridges was a "menace to the nation's security" because of his actions since the Korean war started.

President May Be Given
Free Hand On War Controls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Senate-House conferees expect to wind up work today on a bill that will give President Truman virtually a free hand in imposing war emergency economic controls.

Biggest stumbling block to be resolved today is the "all or nothing" amendment by Sen. Bricker (R) Ohio, which would require the President to apply price and wage ceilings over the whole economy at once, with a few minor exceptions.

The House version of the bill would permit the President to ease in those regulations bit by bit and on specific items as he sees fit.

In addition to the wage and price authorities, the measure gives the President power to or-

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—A government official disclosed today that Britain has shipped 38 million dollars worth of machinery and other strategic goods to Russia and her satellites in the past six months.

Ronald Jones, spokesman for Britain's board of trade, explained: "What could we do? The orders were placed in 1948 and our refusal to deliver would have constituted an economic blockade."

"Our policy constantly is under review and a majority of the orders should be completed in 1951, barring unforeseen complications," Jones said Britain is continuing to accept orders from the Communist nations but "only under security regulations which are being revised weekly."

Added Importance
The question of shipments of materials to Russia took on added importance in the light of reports that a large quantity of molybdenum has been shipped from the U. S. to Russia through Great Britain.

Bombing Planes Active As War Starts Third Month

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Allied planes took to the air in force again today as the Korean war roared into its third month.

Weather in the battle area was listed as "generally good". F-80 jet fighters and B-26 Invader bombers were airborne at the first light of dawn.

Big B-29 Superfortresses featured the air news Thursday. They dumped nearly 250 tons of bombs on military targets in North Korea. More than half the tonnage was aimed at a processing plant of the big chemical installation at Hungnam (Konan) on the east coast.

The air communiqué reported that "excellent visual bombing runs" against the plant resulted in "fires and secondary explosions with unusual green flashes and heavy orange smoke which obscured the target."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—The commerce department today clamped stringent export controls on sugar in an attempt to prevent speculation in the world sugar market.

Effective Sept. 1, exporters will be required to obtain a validated commerce department export license if they plan to ship more than $250 worth of sugar out of the United States.

Canada was exempted from the order and shipments to countries comprising the Soviet bloc will be given careful screening on any amount of sugar exported to those areas.

Reservists Will Face Call Soon

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Forty-seven thousand more enlisted army reservists today face a call to active duty in the next three months.

The new call-up, announced last night by the army, will bring U. S. ground forces to 1,100,000 men by Jan. 1. This is almost double army strength before the outbreak of Korean hostilities.

All of those in the new call will be men who are not now in organized reserve units. Previously 62,000 such men have been called to active duty.

Army strength at the start of the war was 591,000. Calls have been announced for 185,000 draftees, 119,000 individual reserves and an estimated 200,000 men in organized reserves and National Guard units.

The army said that all the individual enlisted reservists being called are age 19 through 35, and that most of them are veterans of World War II. All but 4,000 will be in military camps by Oct. 25.

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director I. N. S.)

TOKYO, August 26.—(Saturday)—Counter-attacking South Korean troops, aided by low-sweeping U. S. planes, recaptured a strategic peak 15 miles north-northeast of Taegu Friday night to check a strong Red drive.

A front dispatch early today (Saturday) said the South Korean Sixth Division regained Hill No. 336, also known as Mount Puyge, from which the defenders had been driven Friday morning.

The counter-attack, supported by 105mm artillery fire, was launched after several thousand tanked troops of two Red divisions had pierced the South Korean lines in an apparent effort to outflank vital Taegu from the northeast.

Unleash Fresh Attacks
The invaders also unleashed fresh attacks along the south and northeast coastal wings of the Korean front, attempting to advance on the ports of Pusan and Pohang.

In the south, U. S. battle planes broke up a Red troop unit after it had been pinned down by American artillery and mortar fire as it was massing for an attack. A hill seized by other Red units in that sector was recaptured.

On the east coast, a communist counter-attack drove South Korean troops back about a mile northwest of Pohang.

As the war raged into its third month, here was Friday night's picture of the fighting:

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—U. S. officials reported today increased signs of Communist preparations for a new drive to "liberate" Berlin and western Germany from allied control.

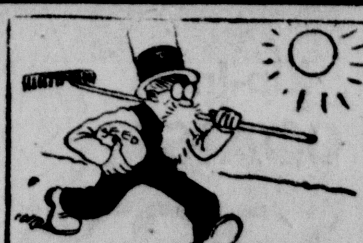

The results of this Russian-backed program may, in the opinion of allied authorities, provide the final answer to the question of war or peace in the divided Reich.

This international business has me puzzled, the brass hats meet and can't agree, but getting on with neighbors isn't difficult. It's quite simple thing it seems to me. My neighbor is the man who lives next to me, or lives across the ocean miles away, who lives in cities or in little hamlets, who forges steel or rears the new mown hay. I do not care what church claims his allegiance, or what his views are say in politics. I hope he prospers and he has a family, a flock of kids say four or five or six. As long as he is kind and good and tolerant, we'll get along as we go on our way, why don't these brass hats learn what makes a neighbor, it's not so hot, but 81 today.

Peak North Of Taegu Retaken From Enemy

rean regiments of perhaps 5,600 troops, aided by 14 tanks, penetrated the South Korean sixth division's lines northeast of Taegu, but were stemmed in severe combat.

In this drive the enemy's first and eighth divisions apparently were seeking to reach the rail-highway center of Sinnyong, 14 miles northeast of Taegu, and outflank the fortress city.

Directly north of Taegu, an estimated 200 survivors out of an original 1,000 Red infiltrators behind the U. S. 27th ("Wolfhound") regiment's positions, have "taken refuge in a walled village".

This was announced in a Friday night eighth army communiqué which said allied infantry and artillery were attacking the village.

South Front—Elements of two Red divisions thrust at the U. S. 35th division before Masan, western gateway to the all-important entry harbor of Pusan. North-west of Haman, the celebrated Negro 24th regiment counter-attacked late Friday and regained a strategic height from which the Americans had been driven Friday morning.

Other units of the 24th regiment, the Friday night eighth army bulletin said, met a spearhead of some 300 Red troops which had thrust four miles southeast of Haman. This action occurred only four miles northwest of Masan and 31 air miles west of Pusan.

Northeast Front—Two South Korean divisions, supported by heavy U. S. naval shellfire and swarming planes, opened a renewed push early Friday above the Pohang-Kygy line.

The South Korean third division, driving up the shoreline highway toward Yongsok, charged forward 500 yards.

But the South Korean Capital division, jumping off above Kygy, which is eight miles northwest of Pohang, collided with a powerful communist counter-push.

The eighth army's Friday night bulletin said the Capital division 17th regiment was hurled back, 2,000 to 3,000 yards under "a heavy attack by tank-supported (Red) infantry".

Naval—British Marines executed a second commando raid near Seoul's enemy-held port of Incheon deep in the enemy's rear on the west coast. The commandos blew up an enemy radio station, then left aboard a destroyer which had brought them to the landing point.

U. S. warships off the east coast cannonaded enemy troops above Pohang and a heavy cruiser shelled 200 freight-laden boxcars at the North Korean port of Songjin.

Air—Hundreds of allied bombers and fighters, taking advantage of good weather, rocket-bombed, fire-bombed and strafed Red columns and communications.

Signs of Weakening
An official American spokesman said the invaders are showing increasing signs of "weakening", largely because of the aerial disruption of their supply lines.

A briefing officer at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters said the enemy's new attack on the northern front may be aimed ed to drive beyond Sinnyong to Yongchon, eight miles to the southeast.

The spokesman said an enemy advance to Yongchon would cut behind Taegu and drive a wedge between United Nations forces on the north front. Yongchon, a major rail-highway hub, lies 17 miles east of Taegu.

The Red drive was launched near Chongno, 22 miles north-northeast of Taegu, inland anchor of the UN defense rectangle. It proceeded down the Uisong-Sinnyong highway before it was checked by the South Koreans.

U. S. planes and artillery supported the South Korean sixth division as the latter contained the Red wedge and held firm along the sector where the invaders had shifted their main strength.

CROSSING 38TH PARALLEL IN KOREA TO BE U.S. DECISION

test of the Soviet's fidelity to the world peace body is expected to be raised.

Two Commitments
The UN so far has made two commitments on Korea. They are:

1. That the nation should be unified, with general elections held throughout the country to determine the will of the people. The communist-dominated North Koreans refused to allow UN observers to supervise this task.

2. When the North Korean aggression started on June 25 the UN security council ordered a cease fire and demanded that the North Korean troops retire to the 38th parallel.

As viewed here, the latter order recognizes the right of the Communists to control the northern area. But there has been no other revision of the pledge of a free and united Korea.

Whatever the military situation may be at the time, the U. S. forces are expected still to be bearing the brunt of the combat.

Officials have repeatedly said that the UN alone will determine what action shall be taken when the 38th parallel is reached. Presumably the U. S. will abide by the decision.

Private First Class Edward R. Searloss, son of Edward F. Searloss Sr. of 411 Neshannock avenue, now serving with the Eighth Cavalry Regiment, First Cavalry Division, in Korea has been awarded the Cluster to the Purple Heart for wounds received during the battle of Yongdong.

With the First Cavalry Division since early in 1949, Pfc. Searloss was wounded July 25 when he and several other members of his company were holding a position on the outskirts of the artillery battered Korean city of Yongdong.

Pfc. Searloss was among the initial troops of the First Cavalry Division to land in Korea as part of the United Nations police force against Red aggression.

RAIL SEIZURES BY GOVERNMENT MAY BE ORDER

Steelman, in the east wing of the White House from 3 to 4 p. m., Wednesday, Aug. 23, 1950, no mention whatsoever was made regarding the calling of any nationwide strike, and therefore any statement to the effect that we have broken our pledge is 100 percent false.

A spokesman for the unions told reporters that the union men did advise John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, that the "token" strikes in the Midwest this week would not be extended and that the labor chiefs would "hold further token strikes in abeyance."

However, he reiterated that no one brought up the question of a national strike and no pledge was made not to order such a walk out.

Rail Embargo Planned
The railroads plan to clamp an embargo on all rail shipments today, well in advance of Monday's scheduled strike on 131 lines of 300,000 trainmen and conductors.

A spokesman for the Association of American Railroads said, however, that the orders may be held up until Saturday if some unexpected hitch develops.

The spokesman added that the unions may volunteer to carry emergency supplies on the strike-bound railroads. He pointed out that a similar offer was made during the 1946 stoppage.

Meanwhile, William P. Kennedy, president of the Order of Trainmen, and Roy O. Hughes, head of the Brotherhood of Conductors, remained in Washington in anticipation of some break in the 17-month-old dispute.

No Indication Of Move
Informed sources said the Monday strike deadline was set far enough in advance to permit President Truman to call a conference of railroad presidents and union chiefs to work out a final settlement.

The two big unions incurred the heated wrath of Mr. Truman who accused them of breaking their no-strike pledge Wednesday, an hour after they had promised no shutdowns.

The president refused to give any indication of the government's next move but reports persisted that the White House would order federal seizure and operation of the carriers.

In fact, one highly-placed official made this terse comment: "As things stand now, I can see no way out but seizure."

This course has been steadfastly advocated by the unions as the climax to their 17-month-old fight for a 40-hour work week with 48 hours pay and other demands.

St. Laurent met this morning with union officials Frank Hall and Aaron Mosher. In the afternoon, he meets with Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National railways, and William Mather, president of Canadian Pacific.

Never before has a prime minister injected himself into a labor dispute and there was some resentment voiced among labor spokesmen at St. Laurent's action. Some suggested that any move toward a forced settlement might lead to a nationwide general strike.

Fifth Air Force B-26's took over the almost continued allied air attack against the vital bridge over the Han river near Seoul—probably the most important single bridge in the communist communication setup.

The light bombers rained napalm fire bombs on a pontoon bridge next to the impassable highway bridge over the Han. Headquarters declared that the attack "probably caused crippling damage."

Reconnaissance aircraft reported the communists are rapidly pushing to completion a "filmy" railroad bridge about 2,000 yards downstream from the main rail bridge of Seoul.

Fifth Air Force fighters, Royal Australian Air Force Mustangs and U. S. Marine Corsairs handled the close support phase of Thursday's action, flying more than 260 sorties over the battle lines.

Mrs. Lish, an elevator operator at the Lawrence Savings & Trust company, told authorities she saw two young men at 7 p. m. on the second floor.

As soon as Patterson telephoned police, Sergeant Carl Wallace dispatched a cruiser car with officers which arrived three minutes after Patterson recorded the call.

While they were investigating the burglary attempts at the Lawrence Savings & Trust building, Mr. Mayfield telephoned from the Johnson building.

Another cruiser car with police was dispatched to that structure. The officers combed all floors of both buildings in the hope that the burglars might yet be in the buildings. However, no one was found.

It is believed by the police that there were three young men concerned in the affair. Descriptions given by the persons who seen the young men were telephoned to all police, but no captures have yet been made.

ance will be summoned to report for active duty on the following schedule:

31,000 Sept. 15-30.
13,000 Oct. 2-15.
29,000 Oct. 10-25.

Another 4,000 reservists who have had less than one year's military experience—chiefly draft-age men who joined the reserves after brief training—will report for duty Nov. 1-10.

Organized units being called up have not been specified, except for announcements that so far they include four regular divisions, two regimental combat teams and smaller units from the National Guard.

In addition to the enlisted men, the army has announced that it is calling 8,432 company grade officers and 1,562 medical, dental and technical officers on an individual basis.

The first orders in the reserve column are going out to men who have the fewest dependents and are in non-essential jobs. The boost in the call for individual reserves raises quotas for the second army area (Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware and Kentucky) from 13,012 to 23,509.

the manufacture of high-quality steel. A British foreign office spokesman confirmed that such a shipment was made but pointed out that the deal was between an American firm and Russia and the scarce metal merely was transhipped through Britain.

By way of explanation, the British official said: "When lend-lease halted, we were faced with a dollar shortage and needed grain and timber. So we signed a contract with Moscow for the delivery of 55 jet engines which the Russians wanted."

"Until January, 1948, we considered anything, including jet engines, not on the secret list and available for export generally."

"Minister of Trade Harold Wilson went to Moscow in December, 1947, and negotiated a successful trade agreement whereby the Soviets shipped us 75,000 tons of raw feeding grain."

"In exchange, Russia had a choice of such items as narrow gauge locomotives, freight cars, winches, excavators, cranes, mobile Diesel generators, cranes and steam turbine generators."

This proviso went part of the way toward the authority that the President requested for government regulation of such speculation.

But the House conferees pointed to the decisive licking this request took in the House and turned down even the "self-policing" feature which was backed up by a $5,000 fine and a one-year jail sentence.

The toughest fight, however, on the "restrictive" Senate amendments will come on the Bricker provision.

Never before has a prime minister injected himself into a labor dispute and there was some resentment voiced among labor spokesmen at St. Laurent's action. Some suggested that any move toward a forced settlement might lead to a nationwide general strike.

ROBERT HANNA WEDS TORONTO, CAN., GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hanna, 711 Reynolds street, Mrs. Robert Hanna and Charles Hanna of 510 Blaine street, have returned from Toronto, Canada, where they attended the wedding of Robert Hanna, Jr., son of Chief of Police Robert D. and Mrs. Hanna of 510 Blaine street, and Miss Margaret Graham, 125 Gamble avenue, Toronto, Canada.

The wedding ceremony took place in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Yonge street, Toronto, August 12, with Rev. Nathan Bailey, eastern and Central Canadian superintendent of the Alliance, officiating. The double ring ceremony was used in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride was attired in a white brocaded jacquard silk gown which was originally designed for Mrs. William Carlson, a missionary to Korat, Siam, but arrived in China too late for her wedding. Mrs. Carlson requested that Miss Graham use the gown at her wedding. The bride wore a bouquet of cascade red roses.

Bridesmaids were Mary Rorke and Mrs. Doreen Brampton of Toronto. Both were attired in taffeta gowns and carried crescent shaped bouquets of roses and glads.

Charles Hanna of this city, served his brother as best man, while ushering were William Graham and Murhill Reside. Vocal music was provided by Richard Oliver, who sang, "O Perfect Love"; "Together With Jesus" and the "Wedding Prayer." Accompanying at the piano was Connie Chapman.

Mrs. Hanna graduated from the St. Paul Bible Institute, in June 1950 while her husband attended the same school. The couple are on a Northern Ontario wedding trip and will return, August 28, to Glasgow, Montana, where Mr. Hanna is pastor of an Alliance church.

Joker In Economic Controls Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—On the 57th day after the beginning of the Korean war the Senate finally got around to passing an economic controls bill. As backed up by amendments, it may be unworkable.

Perhaps the most arbitrary amendment—certainly the saddest commentary on the state of our political life—was the joker put in by Senator Edwin Johnson of Colorado. Johnson, who gives the outward impression of being just a big, good-natured, grown-up boy, has extraordinary craft and guile in politics.

He also has an intense and almost vengeful dislike of the president. This is coupled with a healthy respect for the interests of big business which he serves very well in the Senate.

The controls bill gave him a chance to take out both his likes and his dislikes. By denying the president authority over allocations and priorities, he could pass the insult direct to his enemy in the White House. At the same time he could do a good turn for the segment of business that has been lobbying to give all power to the department of commerce.

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer is reported to have been not precisely a reluctant bridegroom. According to reports on Capitol Hill, Sawyer and his friends have been working quietly but intensively to make sure that the final power would rest in the vastness of the commerce building.

Has Its Embarrassments

They would have preferred to have had this power through a presidential directive rather than by the present means which has its embarrassments. The Sawyer faction has aimed at setting up a kind of war production board in the commerce department.

It would have powers in virtually every field—not only steel and related metals, but utilities, oil, farm machinery and so on. Naturally this stirred resentment among other cabinet members who saw their prerogatives taken away, and their stature in a defense economy.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

THE CHILD'S SCHOOL MATERIALS

Many public schools provide not only free books for children but also free pencils, paper and the like. Our chief problem as parents is to educate our children in careful and economical use of these free materials. Let us induce the child on first bringing home from school a free book to place on it a strong, neat paper cover. Unfortunately, the average child is rarely taught either at home or in school to exercise proper care of such materials. When he makes careless use of these items of public property he is having bad training in citizenship.

More often than not, students in high school must buy their school books. Unless you are sure your child has had enough training in responsibility to secure texts and equipment in a careful way, you should make a careful check. Not having a text book for the first several school sessions could easily mean a term failure for some students.

Other Tools
For the child in junior or senior high school a fountain pen is useful, though few children under twelve would need one. Parents should consider the purchase of a typewriter for the child in the upper grade. This tool grows more and more important as the youth enters high school and is almost indispensable for college. A typewriter can be very useful in the home for parents as well as children.

Let us note here that the primary child who is handicapped with reversals of letters as he reads or spells can be helped with the use of a typewriter. If, for instance, he writes letters or words backwards or upside down, typing from copy or while his parent spells each word aloud, will teach him correct letter and word formation.

A good desk dictionary at home is very useful for the child above the fourth grade. An unabridged dictionary, atlas, globe and wall maps can prove good investments for the entire family when children are in high school.

Helping Younger Children

In the modern kindergarten and primary grades there is much emphasis on creative and constructive work with colored paper, large sheets of plain paper, crayons and paints. Such materials provided at home can prove very helpful to the young school child. Simple tools for working with cardboard and wood may be useful all through the elementary grades, especially useful in connection with arithmetic.

Even better than materials are parents who appreciate and enjoy the young child's creations. My bulletins, "Letting Little Children Learn" and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

For supplementary materials in connection with school work, such magazines as The National Geographic, are highly serviceable, as also are several of the children's magazines, since the latter may greatly aid the child in learning to read well.

Bible Thought

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to you the true riches? Luke 16:10, 11.

reduced to the vanishing point. But the official hardest hit by the Sawyer campaign has been W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. As Symington has seen his role in a wartime or defense economy, it is that of referee.

The various government departments would each exercise authority in its own field as delegated by the White House. Then, when any differences arose, Referee Symington would step in to settle them. One of his acts as referee, the NSRB head would, of course, require proper authority, and that could come only from congress, or, at second hand, from the president.

May Be Modified

In conference the provision tacked on by the Senate giving all powers to Sawyer may be modified or knocked out. If it is not, then Symington is left outside looking in. His job becomes the somewhat dubious one of a recommender and a memoranda-writer. He has hinted to close friends in recent days, while the subterranean struggle for authority was going on, that he would get out of the government altogether if that happened. He adds that he would take such a step with great reluctance because of his deep loyalty to Truman.

Symington has a dynamic temperament, and he would not fit well into the role of memoranda-writer. One line of attack directed against him has seemed to me particularly unfair. He is reported to have been too friendly toward labor. This report has been circulated by some of the business men who attended a recent conference of executives, called by Symington to plan for wartime production. Symington had held a similar conference earlier with trade union officials.

Several Reasons

There are several reasons that seem sound why overall authority should not go to Sawyer. The department of commerce is traditionally and properly the friend and abettor of business. If Sawyer were to be given power over all segments of the economy, he would likely find it hard to crack down on his one-time friends. That is almost more than should be asked of human nature.

Furthermore, Sawyer has never shown, as an individual, the traits that such a tough assignment will take. There is bound to be resistance from industry in one way or another. And it requires a stern but just administrator to see that the cuts are made deep enough to insure sufficient defense production while at the same time the hardships are dispensed on a fair and equal basis.

This is where we stand here at home 57 days after the Korean attack revealed, as in lightning flash, the dangerously exposed position of the western world. It is, in that classic phrase, a hell of a way to run a railroad.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MEMORY

I'm sure the Lord when life began Said, giving memory to man: "Let him remember kindness shown."

That he may have it for his own. Let him recall some cheering word Which from another once he heard That he may make the self-same gift.

To one whose spirit needs a lift. "I give him memory that he may be what I would have him be. Remembrance of the blessings had Will comfort him when he is sad. Let him recall it, moments grim When loving friends have meant to him."

That he may be quick to share The sorrows others have to bear."

Oh, blessed memory that clings To all the dear familiar things And brings them back to us once more Our faith and courage to restore. Holds safe the joys that couldn't last. And for the present keeps the past. From death itself and winter's frost.

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

In this business there are a lot of requests . . . some of which necessity makes it impossible or impractical to carry out . . . on the other hand there are requests to which we try to supply the answers and in many cases gathered for ourselves much information that might otherwise pass by the board . . . educational, if you wish to put it that way . . . and that brings us to the request for today.

Several new parents have asked about raising their offspring . . . that's a big order and one which we will not attempt to answer in full . . . but we do have some thoughts concerning the problem . . . especially when the problem reaches the crawling age . . . and we have asked others about this age which is just one of many problem ages that will be experienced and has been experienced by parents for years.

One authority says this . . . "when the crawling age arrives you can make things safe for baby by batting down a house before turning the crawler loose. Empty the ash trays; shut the door leading to the basement; put the lid down on the toilet; put the screen in front of the fireplace; close the closet door; take away the remains of the dog's dinner; rack up current mail, newspapers and magazines, and warn the older children to watch their steps." (Of course, if this is your first child you won't have to bother with that last item.)

But when we mentioned the above to an old hand at raising children . . . she said, "forget about electric light cords and sockets, shade cords and curtains, empty ash trays, coffee tables and all other standard household fixtures. It's easier to crawl around with the baby than overcome all these hazards!" . . . and she goes further in saying, "any mother that would worry about this problem would be better off living with her crawler in a padded cell!"

Now that we have mentioned the problem . . . we have solved it by penning the crawler in the kitchen near the pot and pan cupboard . . . destruction is localized and the din of banging these utensils is at a maximum.

HOPING FOR A BULL'S-EYE

Getting Bath In Sweden

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 25.—Up until yesterday it had been nearly forty years since a woman had given me a bath, but after such a long time it seemed so natural that I almost said, "Mama, my ears aren't dirty. I just finished washing them before you put me in the tub."

Before you get the idea that I was out on the town in Stockholm, cutting a middle-aged caper, let me tell you that a Swedish friend of mine, Tore Wretman, and I were delivered at the Sturebad by our wives, Jean and Lillibell.

The Sturebad, the like of which is not to be found in the United States, occupies a lovely building in the dead center of town and, along with any kind of bath you want—Turkish, Swedish, Finnish, shower, tub—you get a library, a swimming pool, a restaurant, sleeping rooms, and dry cleaning and laundry service. The ultimate touch of the Sturebad is that you can bring your dog along and have him washed and clipped and meet you outside as clean as you are.

Attendants' Women
All the attendants in the bath are women.

They range from about thirty-five years of age up, and the one I drew I am quite sure is Grandma Moses' grandmother. She must date back to the Stone Age, really, and I wanted to ask her how life was among the cave men.

On entering the Sturebad I elected to have a Finnish bath, which I first tried in the early days of Dave Chasen's Beverly Hills restaurant, usually accompanied by Brod Crawford, a natural born Finnish bather.

At a theatre-like cage I paid two kronor (about forty cents) and when I showed my ticket in an inner room I was given a sheet and led to a private undressing booth. There I stripped and, under the gaze of twenty or thirty women attendants who were roaming around ready to give advice, made my way to the room which had showers and little hot tubs.

There Grandma Moses' grandmother soaped me, scrubbed me, and showed me to the Finnish bath department. A man has his choice of heat. He can go in a Finnish bath where the heat is as mild as the heat of Hades, or he can choose one that is 220 degrees. I chose the 220 number and joined a score of Swedish gentlemen on tiered wooden benches. Most of them were reading papers, despite the clouds of steam.

Medium Well Done
When I was medium well done, and ready for the Bernaise and Worcestershire sauces, I made my way out and returned to the room with the showers, etc.

There I was scrubbed and showered again and then led into the massage room, decorated with Swedish tables, upon which Swedish gentlemen were being rubbed by descendants of Eve of all ages and shapes.

For half an hour I got a rub worthy of a star Yankee outfielder or a Yale football Granda

Moses' grandmother looked older than the hills, and certainly would have appeared more at home behind a spinning wheel, but her hands had the strength of ten.

At the finish of the rub I jumped in the swimming pool, just off the rubbing room and showed off my sensational dog-paddle stroke to the Swedes who were swimming with me.

Then came a rub that threatened to remove my skin, and after that a general all-over pat with towels that left me pink as a sunset and tingling from head to toe.

I followed this with a cold beer, a cat nap of half an hour, and went forth into the streets of Stockholm feeling like a million dollars, even though a pat of my watch pocket (where all Georgia boys keep their serious money), showed me that I was just about as far from being a millionaire as it is possible to get.

All that for two kronor and one kroner tip. About sixty cents.

Sure is going to be funny to get back home to those Saturday night baths in a tin tub in the kitchen.

Bathing myself, too. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(By International News Service)

Since the ECA sent a hotel man to Europe there's some confusion over whether we are extending the Marshall plan or the American plan.

Countries which trade at our gift and loan department are to be taught how to make their beds properly . . . This will keep them from getting out the wrong side of same.

There is also a radical plan to introduce ice water for drinking instead of shaving.

Moscow which has long mistrusted our motives in Europe can no longer doubt our good intentions . . . We just want to fix it so the window shades and the shower both work.

After the hotel man has finished his end of the task of rehabilitating Europe we can get on to such specialized projects as the appointment of a commission to England to study possible reclamation of used tea bags.

All these things are important to the preservation of world peace.

They Say

WASHINGTON—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, "The universal military training program to make our manpower ready and a selective service to make our manpower available are two irreplaceable parts of the pattern of survival."

BONN, Germany—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy: "Several times in history, American military strength has been underestimated. I think one should hesitate to do it again."

WASHINGTON—Senator McCarran (D) Nev.: "Whether or not there must be a war with Russia, we must now prepare for a war with Russia."

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

DOCTOR OR PLUMBER

When the faucet in the kitchen sink leaks, Mom tells Dad about it. Perhaps in a week or two he tries to fix it. If it doesn't help any, he calls the plumber. Maybe he finds a leaky valve or maybe something else.

Sometimes Grandma has trouble going upstairs. She gets all out of puff. Maybe her ankles swell a little towards evening. She might have a leaky valve or something else wrong with her heart. The doctor could probably find out pretty quick.

It is better to see about such things right away. Sometimes a little medicine or something fixes things pretty well.

Psychological Warfare?

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—Over at the State Department they've set up a National Psychological Strategy Board, but somehow the Russian menace hasn't gone away. Realities are funny like that. They have a way of sticking around despite all attempts to talk them out of existence.

Likewise, it's getting impossible to sit in a restaurant or pick up a paper without learning that we've got to tell the GIs in Korea "what they're fighting for." Unless the GI has changed a lot since the last time out, this would be a plenty risky thing to do in person. There are still some Marines around who remember how the boys on Guadalcanal behaved when Mrs. Roosevelt turned up to give their morale a boost. But behind every home-front suggestion that the front-line boys need moralizing is a sneaky little escapist thought that here's a way to explain our early defeats and to make our eventual victory come quicker, cheaper and surer.

Psychology Secret Weapon

Well, last spring the management of the St. Louis Browns invested in the services of a psychologist. He was to travel with the team and to hold heart-to-heart talks with the players. Psychology was going to be the secret weapon to lift the Browns out of the American league cellar and make them a first division club.

Here is escapism, pure and simple, not unlike some of the wishful thinking in government circles. The Browns' management was hoodwinking itself into believing that the doctor and his black magic could substitute for long-ball hitters and hard-ball throwers. It's much cheaper to retain a medico than to go on the market for baseball muscles and talent. For what you'd pay a clean-up batter or a 20-game pitcher you could retain the whole graduation class of a mail order auto suggestion school. But you don't win pennants that way, any more than you win wars. The Browns are still a losing ball club, down in seventh place, and the psychologist has been fired.

Job For Him In Washington

But there's probably a job for him in Washington where the Federal bureaus are hiring psychologists to cure the atomic jitters and put some hocus-pocus in war preparation. Psychological warfare is bloodless warfare, and much to be preferred to the other kind. We were on the receiving end of some high-powered propaganda in the last fracas, and we ought to know how effective it really is. One way to calculate how many Commies the Voice of America can convert is to count up the GIs who deserted on account of listening to Lord Haw Haw. Axis Sally and Tokyo Rose.

Yet the hopeful idea still persists that by winning a "you're another" argument from some Russian propagandists like Malik, we've accomplished something important. All sorts of wise men nod gravely when Senator Benton or Assistant Secretary of State Barrett come out for "selling" Democracy over the airwaves and "winning the battle for men's mind" by sales talk. But when all the talking and exhorting is over, what have we still ain't got? The enemy knows darn well. We ain't got the men and guns to shoot it out with him.

Who Needs Psychology Most

People who need psychology the most are the ones it never helps. The same truth must apply to nations. Charm schools are full of husband-hunting females who will never wear a bridal veil or shouldn't be encouraged to try. The salesman with the artificial handshake that he learned from a night course professor doesn't sell as many washing machines as the kid who never had to be taught to flash his grin. The world is full of literary frustrates who will never write "Hamlet" and county fair horses which will never win a stake race. No amount of auto-suggestion or wishing-for-it ever became a substitute for talent that wasn't there.

Historically speaking, psychological warfare is a sure sign of inner weakness. Our country has made a career of whipping nations which were better propagandists and gave their soldiers better reasons for fighting. Hitler invented the Big Lie technique. The Jap soldiers were convinced that death in battle was a passport to heaven. But somehow these trick dodges don't pay off in the end. A winner doesn't need a psychologist, and a loser isn't helped by one.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

When I wrote that column about women last month, I predicted that I would be called an old fuddy-duddy, a reactionary, an old-fashioned grump, mid-Victorian has-been.

I was wrong. I wasn't called any of those names. But I WAS called asinine, naive, obtuse, stupid, ridiculous, crazy, and a few other things that cannot be reprinted in a family newspaper.

If you recall, I said that I like my women feminine. I expressed my preference for the times when women were homemakers and when the children enjoyed the company and influence of their mothers.

I also said that much of today's juvenile delinquency is due to the fact that so many youngsters nowadays are on their own while both parents are at work during the day.

I closed my column with the thought that I have great respect for the career woman—but that she doesn't have to be masculine to prove that she is man's equal.

Letters came pouring in from all over the country and even from Chile, Mexico, Ecuador and Cuba. Strange to say, every man who wrote, agreed with me. The majority of the women who made comments on that column disagreed—many of them using the above-mentioned and other epithets to express their disgust.

The disapproval may roughly be divided into two categories: (1) Women who can't afford to stay home. (2) Women who don't want to stay home.

I fully realize that under present economic conditions it is often absolutely necessary for the woman to get a job and help out to maintain the home and to bring up the children.

But that does not alter the fact that all the money the woman can probably contribute to her offspring's education and "social advantages" as one writer puts it, can hardly make up for the spiritual advantages those kids miss by not having their mother with them to guide and teach them.

The solution? I wish I knew. There may be a hint in one of these letters. Both the man and the wife have Master's degrees from a university which he attended for six years. All he got out of his education is a $60 a week position nine months out of the year. So, naturally, she has to go out and work to make ends meet.

Can those Master's degrees possibly be a disadvantage rather than an advantage? Are perhaps too many people with college degrees too conscious of their "social" standing to dig in and do the kind of work that may be less refined but much more remunerative?

What do YOU think?

Now as to the women who don't want to stay home.

Here is part of a typical letter: "I have two hours of housework and six hours of boredom. I even lose my self-respect. I feel I am doing no one any good. I am not a career woman, but I sure wish I was. Even with a child I think I would be happier working."

I would insult the intelligence of my readers to make any comments on that.

I can imagine the thousands of you who would be the happiest women in the world to be through with your housework in two hours and have eight hours, not of boredom, but for self-improvement and service.

Bridge

BY H. T. WEBSTER

Oldest Industry Under Discussion By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1950—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 25.—I am again enjoying a vacation in the good city of Gloucester where I was born. This city, built on a rocky island, is America's most famous fishing port. It is also a beautiful, healthy and prosperous city, famed by industries, artists and tourists. I love all of Cape Ann.

Fish is almost the only universally used product of your home which continues to be "homemade". You are no longer wearing clothes from cloth woven by hand; all the canned goods used in your home are picked, processed and canned by machinery. Even the milk you drink was taken from the cow by machinery! Your bread is even a better illustration. The ground is plowed, planted, cultivated and the grain harvested by automatic machinery. The grain is then dumped into a mill and comes out the same baked and wrapped loaves you buy. One more thought: Think what you would pay for this newspaper if the newsprint was now made by hand as it was 100 years ago!

In the case of most fish you eat it is very different. After being caught in a net, the fish are assorted by hand; the fish are headed and gutted by hand; fish are taken from the boat and weighed by hand; filleted by hand, packed by hand, etc. Some automatic machinery is used in connection with canning, but 90 per cent of the fish you eat are handled in a way which is very expensive. In fact, the only "modern invention" is the use of big oil powered trawlers instead of sailing schooners, but these trawlers probably destroy almost as many fish as ever get to market.

Huge Waste Selling Fish
One difficulty is that the fish business is being carried on by a large number of inefficient and poorly financed concerns—one of which is big or rich enough to operate a modern plant and afford continuous national advertising. If the little fish concerns would combine, using Robert Steel's newly designed vessel hulls, erecting one large new automatic filleting plant and have one sales force, you would get better fish for less money. As a result, the national consumption of fish would greatly increase; more people would be employed at good wages, and every seaport could be very prosperous. The waste of money on selling fish today is very great. For instance, I was recently in a western city where five salesmen sold all the bananas eaten; ten salesmen sold all the steel used, while over 100 salesmen were selling fish!

No wonder our seaport fish workers strike for more wages and the local merchants suffer therefrom. The employers so insist, in a childish way, upon their own brands and sending out their own salesmen that it costs them more to sell than to catch the fish. They truly cannot afford to pay more wages under present conditions. In fact, very few fish concerns have made money in the long-run, while most have ended in bankruptcy. Yet, potentially the industry has great possibilities.

Fish Industry Has Many Advantages

(1) The ocean is free to all. A farmer must buy land and pay taxes on it; but not so with the fisherman.

(2) Fish are the only "livestock" which do not need raising and feeding. If you raise cattle, hogs, sheep, or chickens they need care and feeding; but not with fish.

(3) Whole salt water fish are the most perfect and complete food procurable. Someday, on Bromfield's Factory Boats, these will be ground instantly after being caught, and delivered to you chocolate sealed and orange flavored for half what you now pay for fillets but containing double the health building qualities.

(4) Fish builds up our brains, and it is brains today that make our families good earners. Hence, eat much more salt water fish.

(5) Due to rains and winds, our soils and their products of grains, vegetables and livestock are constantly being reduced in food values. Every day the equivalent of 200 forty-acre farms, with their vitamins and minerals, are washed down rivers into the sea. Millions of bags of fertilizer and the human waste and garbage from city sewers are likewise washed into the sea. Hence, the ocean products of fish, lobsters and other sea foods are constantly becoming richer, while grain, vegetables, poultry, eggs, etc., may be getting poorer. The time is perhaps coming when your descendants must regularly depend upon fish for proteins and minerals. The fishing industry is the hope of mankind; it needs only capital and United Nations supervision. Yet, our government spends only one dollar to protect our fisheries for each 100 dollars to help agriculture.

How To Get Something Free
Cut out this clipping and give it to the clerk from whom you buy your fish and ask him to pass it along to his boss. He can show it to the next fish salesman who calls. Or, mail it with your name and address to the Gloucester (Mass.) Chamber of Commerce and you will get a free booklet of fish recipes which my mother used, to give me brains and energy!

Farm Roundup

Values Of Farm Land Increase

Observers Expect Higher Valuations As Year Progresses

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Farm real estate observers expect the national average of farm land values to increase as much as three per cent by October.

The land value trend has been upward since last November and these observers say that a high level of economic activity and rising prices, plus the direct influence of the Korean war will keep nudging the trend skyward.

Agriculture officials say they have no proof that the Korean war has sparked a back-to-the-country move—a buy-a-farm craze—but reports are circulating among real estate watchers that people are now greatly interested in moving to the country.

If this movement actually is going ahead, increasing farm values are having an added shot in the arm.

An added attraction to land-buyers, one observer says, is that they believe farm real estate is more attractive and more lucrative than are government bonds. They want something that rises and falls with economic changes and permits a clever operator to make a killing.

"A terrific rush" for property buying in cities is reported at present and it is expected to fan out to the country. But traditionally, farm buying is stimulated slower than city property buying.

The Bureau of Land Management says it is cracking down on trespassers on grazing lands administered by the government as a precautionary step against overgrazing.

The bureau says unless it took action against trespassers, they would have the advantage over legal users who pay fees for use of the resources.

A total of 105 formal actions have been taken during the past year against trespassers in five western regions. These resulted in collections of $14,000 in penalties.

The regions included those covering Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, California, Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports that turpentine production at central stills during July was 32,170 barrels. That was 14 per cent less than in June and 13 percent less than a year ago.

Central still production of gum rosin amounted to 89,320 drums, 10 per cent smaller than last month and nine per cent smaller than July, 1949.

The demand for formula feeds during the week ended August 22 slackened off from the general summer trend at principal producing centers, the Agriculture Department says, because feed manufacturers cut their buying. Many have accumulated stocks during the past several weeks.

The year 1912 was the first in which the American flag had 48 stars.

Good Taste

By FRANCES MARKEE

MARRIAGE OF DIVORCEE'S DAUGHTER

"My parents are separated and both have remarried. I live with my mother and stepfather. I should like to have my own father give me away at my forthcoming wedding. Would this be correct? Whose names should be on the invitations—my own father's or my stepfather's?"

Answer: It will be perfectly proper and natural for your own father to give you away. But because you have made your home with your mother, she should issue in her name alone the invitations to the church. However, your mother and stepfather should, together, give you your wedding breakfast. Therefore, your stepfather's name should be included with hers in the invitations to that particular function. Unless your parents are ultra-modern, your father will not appear at your reception. He should call at your home, possibly waiting outside in the car until you come out, and leave after the ceremony. If your stepfather is at all sensitive, he will remain away from the ceremony.

Question: I have received an invitation to a party to which I am very anxious to go; but I have an out-of-town guest staying at my home. May I ask if I may bring him along, or must I send my regrets, and stay home?

Answer: You may properly ask your hostess for an invitation for your out-of-town friend. Explain your predicament to her and I am sure she will tell you to bring him along. An extra man is always welcome at a party. If your invitation were to a luncheon or a dinner, there would be a different light on the problem. Never ask for an invitation to a meal for anyone. This would call for an extra place at the table, which would no doubt result in inconvenience for everyone.

Question: I am planning an informal luncheon and bridge. May I, correctly, serve luncheon on the bridge tables?

Answer: Your informal luncheon before your bridge may be served on the bridge tables or on the dining room table, according to your choice. If you use bridge tables for this purpose, they must be set with small doilies used especially for luncheons. You may also, if you prefer, serve a buffet luncheon placing your food on the buffet or sideboard in the dining room, allowing your guests to help themselves.

Large Sums Are Being Paid For X-Rays Of Draftees

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(INS)—The Army—which sold much of its World War II X-ray equipment as surplus—now is paying private physicians in some midwest cities as much as $1,125 a day to X-ray draftees and volunteers.

In Milwaukee, an Army spokesman said Dr. Irving Cowan has earned $22,500 in X-ray fees so far this month, and an Omaha physician, Dr. R. W. Fouts, was reported to have earned a total of $9,000 in the same period.

Officers explained that in both cases the doctors were asked to bid for the job through the surgeon-general's office until the Army can get its own X-ray equipment. They added:

"There is nothing we can do about it. The doctors are operating under Army rules that provide for such payments."

Dr. Cowan said his bid of $5 per X-ray—about half the normal charge for civilian X-ray services—was the same as a bid submitted by the Milwaukee Veterans Administration hospital.

He added that he has had to purchase a new X-ray machine for $12,000 and hire four new technicians to handle the work. His contract will terminate whenever the Milwaukee induction center receives an X-ray machine it has ordered.

EATING ON THE ROAD

In trying to choose a spot to eat while traveling, hunt for a place that is busy and where the customers are relaxed. The attendants should be neat and clean, and a watchful well-dressed manager should be present. These are good rules to follow for pleasant, satisfactory eating in any locale.

Heroic 'Fighting Parson' Formerly Of New Bedford

Captain Logan E. Weston, better known as the "fighting parson," former resident of New Bedford, has been temporarily put out of action by the Koreans, but not before he brought down 27 of their number.

Weston, an ordained minister, and an infantry captain was wounded recently in Korea but before they carried him to a Tokyo hospital, he recorded one of the most heroic exploits of the present conflict.

The courageous officer, who received much of his early education in New Bedford where his parents operated a store and filling station, was in a regimental post the other day, when 700 North Koreans attacked. He grabbed a rifle and headed back to his company. Some Reds were setting up two machine guns. He shot them down but not before a bullet tore into his thigh.

Downs Twenty-Seven
Medics attended his wounds applying bandages and attempting to put the courageous fighting parson to bed but their efforts were of no avail. One of his soldiers told how he ran right back up the hill and when hit twice more, he stayed right on duty.

The scene was just another incident in the almost fabulous career of Captain Weston who during World War II spent seven and a half months behind the Japanese lines as a sergeant in Merrill's Marauders. He finished his studies at Transylvania Bible school in Freeport and has been pastor of the Grindstone Methodist church, near Brownstone.

Weston attempted to get into the present conflict as a chaplain but education standards kept him out, so he went in as an infantry officer. He has a wife and two children at Frank, Pa., the boy, seven weeks old, he has never seen.

Captain Weston has spoken in several New Castle churches, including the New Castle Youth for Christ rally.

Over 1,100 At Power Company Picnic Event

A record-breaking crowd of over 1,100 Pennsylvania Power company employees and their families filled the Cascade Park grove on Thursday evening for their annual picnic. Employees from the company's entire New Castle division attended and included those from Ellwood City, Zelenople and Darlington as well as from New Castle.

The evening's activities opened with the serving of a picnic dinner at 5:30 p. m. It took just forty-five minutes for the efficient food committee to serve the meal which was remarkable considering the size of the crowd.

Following dinner, races and games for the children were held near the lake. Thirty awards were given to the lucky contestants in those events. At this time the antics of Jerry Allison dressed as Jo-Jo the Clown kept the crowd in an uproar. A special treat and tickets for the rides in the park were given to each youngster.

"Stop The Clock"

Back in the grove the entertainment committee took over with a hilarious audience participation game called "Stop The Clock". Contestants were required to do clever and amusing stunts which provided lots of laughs for those watching. A band composed of employees furnished music during this period of the program. Members of the band were Jerry Potter, Charles Ziantz, James Maxwell, Alec Works, Frank A. Papst, Bruce Gibson and Robert B. Jackson. Paul Jones played a delightful solo on the electric guitar.

Door awards were received by Ed Teece, Claire Haus and Mrs. Frank Schrum. In the audience participation events awards were given to Lloyd McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Anderson, Henry Winkler, Lyle Wing, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dingley, Don Reiber, Mr. and Mrs. John Grieve and Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin.

Race Winners

Credit for the success of the picnic belongs to the many committees that worked hard to see that everything was done to make it an outstanding event. The general committee which planned the program included C. M. England, D. M. Arnold, L. E. Spears, A. E. Herberg, J. F. Dunlevy, Lyle Bramhall, Marjorie Logan, Virginia Pierson, Elizabeth Pitzer, A. E. Walker, Otto Pearsall, G. A. Lowman, H. I. Lamphier, W. G. Morgan, Agnes Oswald and L. F. Hemenway.

Record Number Of Motor Vehicle Tags Produced

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Inmates of Western State penitentiary are turning out a record-breaking number of 1951 motor vehicle tags. State Welfare Secretary William C. Brown reported today.

Approximately 3,250,000 sets of tags were ordered by the Revenue department, Brown said, and barring "unforeseen complications" production will be completed by March 31, 1951, expiration date of current licenses.

Believe Tide Is Turning In Korean War

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

(Far Eastern Director I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Aug. 25.—Officials at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters voiced the qualified prediction tonight that the Korean war may be won by Thanksgiving Day.

Their optimistic confidence was qualified only by uncertainty as to what Russia will do and whether world Communism will decide to make Korea the basis for a wide-open break with the United Nations.

But, as the war entered its third month, officials at MacArthur's United Nations headquarters said the North Koreans now are "in hand."

In the opinion of these headquarters authorities, the North Koreans have little left of their own resources with which to continue the conflict on the scale it now has reached.

On the battlelines, these officers pointed out, the morale of American and South Korean troops is mounting daily while that of the North Koreans is ebbing fast.

The United Nations supply service is carrying more and more ammunition, food, weapons and men into battle daily.

At the same time, the United Nations air and sea interdiction campaigns are reducing the flow of Communist supplies and men to a trickle.

One official at MacArthur's headquarters said he did not believe the North Koreans—unaided—would be able to fight for more than another three months.

Authority To Draft Doctors Will Be Asked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Secretary of Defense Johnson, with the approval of President Truman, today asked Congress to authorize the drafting of doctors and dentists, before adjournment.

Johnson informed Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., of the House Armed Services committee that the military services wish to call up first those who were trained during the last war at government expense, but who did not serve.

The defense secretary added that only a small number of doctors and dentists have volunteered so far and it will be necessary "within a few months," unless legislation is enacted, to conscript men who served in World War II.

Vinson immediately introduced a draft of the bill submitted by Johnson and announced that his group will hold hearings Monday. The administration bill calls for the induction of men less than 45 years of age. In addition to doctors and dentists, it would be sufficiently broad to cover persons qualified "in needed professional, technical, scientific, specialists, and other occupational categories."

Inducted men would serve for 21 months.

Will Question Rumely Again

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—House lobbying investigators are to question today a witness who defied them earlier this year by refusing to give details of the financing of his organization.

The witness was Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, who appeared under subpoena.

Rep. Buchanan (D) Pa., chairman of the house committee, warned that if Rumely repeated his performance in refusing to make public financial data, he faces a congressional contempt citation along with two other "uncooperative" witnesses.

The other two are Joseph Kamp, head of the right wing constitutional educational league, and William Patterson, executive secretary of the civil rights congress which has been cited as subversive by the attorney general.

Both Kamp and Patterson emulated Rumely in refusing to give the house group information on how their organizations are financed.

Conviction for contempt of congress carries a maximum penalty of one year imprisonment and a $1,000 fine.

Pupils Who Attended Old Martin Gantz School Meet

Martin Gantz—130 strong—gathered Thursday evening for their 18th annual reunion in the First Presbyterian church.

As former pupils and teachers arrived they were presented with a card with their names. Reminiscing of the by-gone days took part early in the evening and promptly at 6:30 o'clock the group sat down to a most delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Each place was marked with a leather key case, presented by Charles Levine.

America was sung by the group with Emel Branstetter at the piano. The invocation was given by John Haley, who is 92 years young. The theme song led by Miss Birdie Craig, the composer was sung at this time.

After the tasty meal was completed pep singing led by Arch Cubbison was in vogue.

After Dinner Program

President Arthur Bratschie spoke a few words of welcome and presented lovely corsages to Mrs. Jean Williams Lyerson, of St. Louis, Mo., for having traveled the longest distance and being the youngest former pupil; and to Mrs. Sadie Norris Patterson, 84 years, for being the oldest lady. The corsages were given by Paul F. Butz. The youngest persons present were Ed Cohn, of Youngstown, O., and William Haltunen. Recognition was given to the former teachers:

Effie Butz, Birdie Craig and Mrs. Olive Glasser Marshall.

Reed McCullough was the master of ceremonies during the evening program. The past presidents of the Martin Gantz Association, both living and dead were honored. A telegram was read at this time from past president Herman Hess, who is in Harrisburg.

Mr. McCullough conferred special degrees upon Mont Magill a former pupil for his untiring and loyal support to the school association.

Memorial Services

Assistant Secretary Maud Mitchell and Mrs. Gula Bauder Keagy conducted the impressive candlelight memorial services. Nineteen names were read by Miss Mitchell while the candles were lit by Mrs. Keagy. The Lord's Prayer was sung by William Haltunen at the start of the services, and "There Is No Death" at the close.

Those who have passed away during the past year and who were members of the Martin Gantz Association include: John S. Wallace, Mrs. Temple Boyd, Reed Megown, Mrs. Clarabelle Rohrer Mitchell, Albert Genkinger, Sr., James J. Griffith, Charles Brown, Mrs. Sara Dana Falls Davis, Mrs. Eva Brothers Wallace, Albert Adam Streib, Miss Minnie Jackson, Edwin E. Marshall, Mrs. Emma Waddington Kissinger, William Addis Osborne, Miss Elizabeth L. Moore, Mrs. Mina Hughes McCombs, Benjamin F. Butler, Carl Hewitt and William Thompson.

The program continued and it was announced that Mrs. Eva Norris Patterson, has given to the Association items that are valuable and belonged at one time to her mother. They are: a diploma of the first New Castle high school graduating class of 1881, signed by Martin Gantz, who was the school superintendent at that time. She also presented a newspaper, excellently printed on cloth—the Daily City News, dated May 20, 1885, which also contained news of the graduates. These are mementoes of the past, which Mrs. Patterson feels the Martin Gantz School Association would like to have for its collection.

Have Entertainment

The entertainment of the evening was a barber shop chorus of 20 persons, led by David Jones. They presented a 40-minute program of minstrel selections. Some of the songs were comical and amusing, but a few sacred numbers were also included on the program in addition to solos and quartet.

Members from out of town were introduced and those coming from a distance were: Birdie Craig of Oelo, Fla.; Jean Williams Lyerson, St. Louis, Mo.; and J. Marion Smith and family from Dearborn, Mich. Guests also attended from Cleveland, Girard, Youngstown, O., Niles, Aliquippa, Pittsburgh, Butler, Beaver, Fayette and New Bedford.

President Arthur Bratschie presided later and the business meeting and election was held. Minutes were read and letters read by secretary, Kathryn Kilbreath. A telegram was received from a former pupil, Congressman Carroll Kearns, who sent regrets as not being able to attend. Clare Duff gave the treasurer's report.

New officers elected include: president, Bernard Rosenblum, of Butler; first vice president, Stanley Treser; second vice president, Russell Magill; secretary, Kathryn Kilbreath; assistant secretary, Maud Mitchell; and treasurer, Clare Duff.

Remarks were given by Mr. Rosenblum, and later the program was closed by president Mr. Bratschie.

Make Plans For Party And Dance For Men Of 229th

Men of the 229th field artillery will be entertained with a party and dance early in September according to formative plans launched Thursday evening at a meeting of the New Castle Veterans Council.

The meeting was held in the lodge rooms of V. F. W. 315 on East Washington street. Purpose of the meeting was to set up a committee to entertain the members of the 229th field artillery before they leave for active duty. The 229th is leaving New Castle about the 9th of September.

giving the committee little time in which to work.

The New Castle Veterans Council is asking the cooperation and financial help of all civic and service organizations in putting over this worthy cause. G. E. Hunt, Sr., commander of the New Castle Veterans Council, who called last night's meeting, states that the time is short and it will take the help of all local citizens to make this enterprise a success.

WASHINGTON—(INS)— Altogether, 31 states and Alaska have deposits of commercially mineable bituminous coal, according to the bituminous coal institute.

In 1935 Americans ate less meat than in any other year in the Twentieth Century—117 pounds a person.

Army May Use
Indiantown GapSpeculation On Probable Use Of State Reservation

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(INS) The use of Indiantown Gap military reservation in the department of the army's stepped-up preparedness program is still in the realm of speculation. Most officials attached to the state department of military affairs believe the 18,000-acre camp will be converted into a reception center for the thousands of young Pennsylvanians slated to be drafted into the service within the next several months. When the army indicated it intended to take over the camp, Gov. James H. Duff cancelled the Camp Penn camp for underprivileged boys which was to take over part of the camp for two weeks this summer. A decision is expected shortly because the first batch of draftees will leave induction centers September 5 although their destination has not been set. The Gap was a reception center early in the last war. State Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber said the camp could be readied within 24 hours to handle 20,000 troops.

The Pennsylvania turnpike commission has appealed to motorists, bicyclists and pedestrians along the eastern extension to refrain from trespassing on the thoroughfare before it is completed. The commission advises in 15 newspapers in cities along the eastern route to reach offenders. "This practice is dangerous and may result in serious injury or loss of life," the commission warned. A turnpike spokesman said there is no intention to prosecute but if the advertising is ineffectual, the eastern extension will be patrolled.

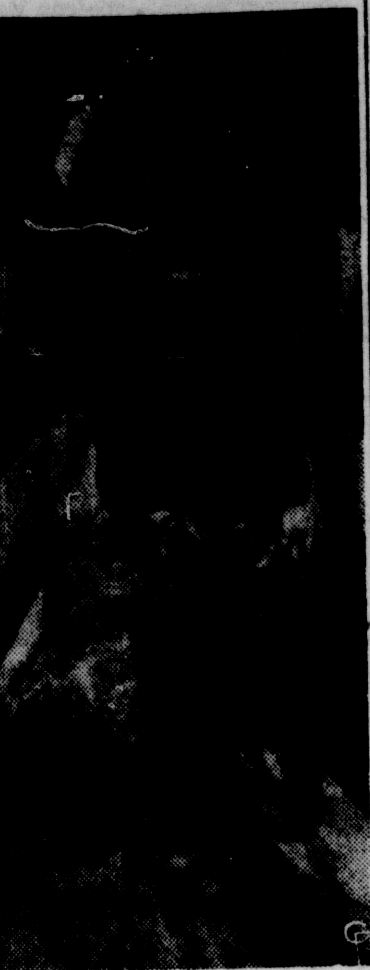

Few people realize the time, effort, equipment and money required to provide and improve the essentials for wildlife of the Keystone state, the state game commission declares. Each year, the commission points out, it is necessary to maintain 880,000 acres of state-owned game lands including servicing over 3,500 miles of boundary, 865 miles of roads, 605 miles of fire trails and 156,400 acres of refuges, propagation areas and special preserves. "In order that food and cover work on the 1,750,000 acres of land owned and leased by the game commission may be carried on efficiently, roads, buildings and other items must be built or maintained," the commission reported. In the last fiscal year, 70 miles of new road were constructed for access to food and cover stations, four miles of fire trails and 43 miles of refuge lines were cut, according to the commission. To furnish housing for equipment and machinery, 11 storage sheds were built.

School buses throughout the state are being inspected for use during the coming school year. Buses which do not measure up to standards set by the compulsory examination act of 1949 will not be permitted to haul school children. Stickers are issued for buses allowed to operate over school routes. The law, in addition to a special examination for school bus operators, also provides for medical examination. No one will be permitted to drive school buses in the future without a proper certificate.

Move To Foil Sabotage In State Plants

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(INS)—A corps of more than 30,000 volunteer policemen is being recruited today by sabotage-conscious utilities, industries and municipalities in Pennsylvania.

Security officers are proceeding under the authority of an act of 1917 to enlist sufficient anti-sabotage agents to insure the safety of Pennsylvania industry already feeling the initial material demands of the armed services.

Volunteers are commissioned by Secretary of the Commonwealth Gene Smith—who believes Red saboteurs "should be shot"—and they are granted the same powers accorded regular police officers.

The communist-inspired war in Korea, says Smith, may have repercussions in America and especially in Pennsylvania which is ready once more to shoulder the burden of being the "arsenal of democracy."

The special police may be recruited, under the provisions of the 33-year-old law, to guard railroads, mines, oil wells, chemical plants, high heat and power plants, water works, iron works, steel, ammunition and manufacturing plants and all other industries as well as public works, buildings and municipalities.

During World War II, a force of about 24,000 volunteer police were commissioned by the commonwealth to supplement regular forces but only about 2,000 are considered active now, according to Smith.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERY

Louis J. Ansbacher, millionaire paint manufacturer of Elberon, N. J., was playing golf with his daughter Marian on the St. Andrews course in Scotland for five pounds a hole. Already irritated because he had lost three holes in succession, Ansbacher really blew his top when a missed putt of less than two feet cost him still another. He looked up angrily but not a soul had said one word, or moved an inch. The green was perfect. The wind had subsided completely.

Suddenly, however, Ansbacher spied a tiny boat in the distance, just over the horizon. He threw his putter angrily on the ground and grumbled, "How the heck can anybody putt with all these ships sailing around here?"

A couple celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in Washington recently. Asked to select the present that had pleased her most, the beaming wife produced a note her husband had propped up on her bureau that morning: "Bride of mine, let's never quarrel until the honeymoon is over. I love you, Henry."

ELECTRIC WATER PUMPS NEED PROPER GROUNDING

Proper grounding of electric water pumps is necessary to eliminate a dangerous hazard. Pumps not grounded can become deadly electrical circuits at any time. The farm water piping is not a satisfactory ground.

Ground the neutral wire in the circuit, and make all connections of copper wire heavy enough to carry a fairly large charge of electricity.

If the pump is belt driven, the only safe method of grounding is to ground both the pump and the motor. Attach the ground wires to a copper or galvanized iron pipe or rod driven 8 feet into firm, moist ground.

ROASTING EARS AMERICAN DISH

If there is a truly American dish, it is corn-on-the-cob, or as some call them, "roasting ears." Corn was not known to the world at large until America was discovered. Even now it is not so widely grown abroad as it is in the Western Hemisphere. In many countries green corn is almost unknown.

Sweet corn is at its best when it is freshly pulled. The sugars found in fresh sweet corn quickly start to change to starch after it has been harvested, and the corn loses some of its sweetness.

Those who buy sweet corn can destroy much of the sweetness by letting corn lie around in a hot kitchen all day. Good fresh sweet corn keeps its freshness longer if it is kept in a cool place. Follow the example of some of the best storekeepers. They put their corn in a refrigerator until it goes on display and sale.

REMOVE MILDEW STAINS: PRESERVE FABRICS

Mildew will weaken or rot material unless it is removed promptly. You can remove surface growth of mold with a thorough brushing outdoors. Outdoor brushing is suggested so spores will not be scattered in the house where they may start a new growth.

The type of material will determine the kind of treatment used to remove mildew stains. With fabrics that can be laundered, wash the fresh mildew stain with soap and water. For more persistent stains, moisten with lemon juice and salt. Dry in the sun, rinse thoroughly, and dry again. Use this treatment on colored garments with care.

You can treat old mildew stains on cotton, linen, and rayon with a chlorine bleach. Dip fabric in the bleach for one minute, then into a weak solution of vinegar—two tablespoons vinegar to one cup of water—to stop the chlorine action. Rinse well and dry.

A thick suds of mild neutral soap or saddle soap will remove mildew on leather goods. After sponging, wipe with a damp cloth and dry in a well ventilated area. If mildew seems to have penetrated pores of the leather, wipe the article with a cloth wrung from a weak solution of alcohol—one cup denatured alcohol—one cup water. Dry in the air.

Remove mildew from floors and woodwork with a cloth dipped in a solution of kerosene and water. If this is not effective, wash in warm water and soap. Allow wood to dry thoroughly.

NO HORSEING AROUND

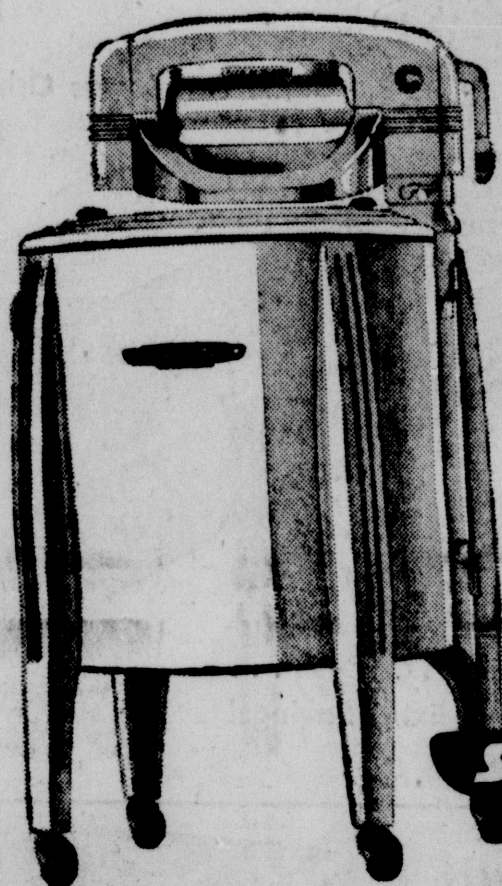

DETROIT—Coaches of the Detroit Lions have decreed no more "horsing around" for rugged recruit tackle Thurman McGraw, former Colorado A. & M. star. McGraw, the Lions' No. 2 draft choice for the 1950 National Football league season, once won a college student dare to wrestle a horse. The six foot, four-inch, 235-pounder, suffered a bruised leg for his effort.

State School Bus Law Will Be Enforced

By AL SPIVAK
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25—(INS)—Pennsylvania State Police will strictly enforce the commonwealth's school bus law when transportation of students begins again in September.

"The confusion surrounding the law last year should be pretty well cleared up by now," said State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm.

"If a motorist has any doubt as to whether he must halt his car in the vicinity of a school bus we hope he will play safe by stopping," Wilhelm said.

Buses Marked
"All buses transporting school children will be appropriately marked. Will be no excuse for a motorist's failing to stop."

Wilhelm explained that automobiles traveling either in the same or opposite direction as a school bus must be halted when the vehicle stops to load or unload children.

"There are certain exceptions," he pointed out. "Motorists on the far side of a divided highway need not stop, and cars driving in either direction may proceed in residential areas or in zones where buses are loaded off the highway."

Buses Inspected
State Police officials already have cautioned school bus owners that their vehicles must be inspected and approved before they may be placed in service during the next school year, Wilhelm said.

Buses purchased before passage of the school bus law in June, 1949, must be painted orange and labeled "school bus" in front and rear in black letters at least six inches high.

Buses purchased or repainted after the act was passed must be painted "a uniform color of national school bus chrome" according to the law and the words "school bus" front and rear must be at least eight inches high. Each bus must carry an electrical or mechanical stop signal device on the front and rear.

These devices must be plainly visible to operators of approaching vehicles in normal sunlight and at night from a distance of 100 feet.

Drivers Must Stop
"The driver of a vehicle when approaching the front or rear of a school bus—that has come to a stop upon any highway or street outside of a business or residential district while in the act of receiving or discharging any school child shall stop such vehicle not less than 10 feet from such school bus."

Most of last year's confusion was caused because school bus owners still had not prepared their buses according to law.

Police therefore were not harsh in enforcing the act.

"This year the buses will conform," Wilhelm pointed out. "The law therefore must be strictly adhered to by motorists."

Clowns Get Funmaking Ideas In Tilts With Crowds

MARK ANTHONY

There are few relationships so mutually beneficial as that between the circus clown and the crowd. The clown gives the crowd laughs, and the crowd in turn unwittingly gives the clown new ideas that will provide future laughs for future crowds.

This is the unanimous contention of the thirty funmakers with the all-new and enlarged Clyde Beatty Circus, coming to New Castle Friday, Sept. 1, for afternoon and night performances at Cascade street show grounds.

The clowns study their audience closely. They notice when any unintentional bit of by-play brings a laugh and that bit is immediately incorporated into their routine. Youngsters also give the clowns many ideas and the majority of those childish ideas prove producers.

With nearly 300 noted circus stars and features, including the world renowned Clyde Beatty and his sensational wild animal display, and the 1950 program is proving the most outstanding in years.

The performances, starting at 2:30 and 8:00 p.m. each day, open with a gorgeously produced professional pageant, "Spangleland On The March" in which great masses of people and hordes of wild jungle beasts take part.

Gasparella Signs Steeler Contract

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Joe Gasparella, former Notre Dame quarterback, has inked a Pittsburgh Steeler contract and was enroute to Cambridge Springs today to limber up over the weekend.

Gasparella, who played for the Steelers in 1948, passed up the professional game last season to return to his alma mater.

Meanwhile, the Steeler squad was enroute to Lexington today for their night exhibition game against the Chicago Bears Saturday.

Zoning Law Change In Moody Avenue Strongly Opposed

Zoning board of the city met last night in the municipal building and voted unanimous opposition to city council ordinance 44 and 45, which if adopted by council, would have resulted in a change of a portion of Moody and Delaware avenues, district being changed to an entirely B zone to permit the wholesale of mortuary supplies.

Approximately 35 property owners of the district attended the meeting. They opposed the proposed change.

The ordinance are now in councilmanic committee of the whole and it is likely both bills will be reported from committee with a negative report.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

It Makes All The Difference

The Browns and the Smiths were next door neighbors. Each family had two boys in their early teens. Yet what a difference there was in the way the youngsters behaved!

The Smith kids were constantly quarrelling with each other and with their parents. Jobs around the house were avoided whenever possible, and when help was given it was done very sloppily. The Brown boys were just the opposite. Randy and Roger seemed to appreciate each other and really took an interest and pride in their work around the house.

A friend of both families put his finger on the cause of this difference. He noticed that when Mr. Smith asked his youngsters to do anything, he told them exactly what they were to do and how. Father Brown's approach is different. He asks Roger and Randy for their opinion as to what they think really needs doing and how the jobs can best be done. That's where the difference comes in.

It's a simple answer. But it makes all the difference in the world. People, whether young or old, like to be asked for their opinion, and perhaps their ideas are something used. Everyone likes to feel that they are something more than "dumb bunnies" just to be ordered around.

Shirley May France Walks Out On Parents

DIGHTON, Mass., Aug. 25.—(INS)—Channel swimmer Shirley May France today brushed aside talk that a romance between her and her coach, Harry Boudakian, led her to walk out of her parent's home.

Shirley, 18, now living with Boudakian and his pretty brunette wife, Elsie, at their Dighton home, said she left home as a result of "something that has been brewing for years."

She declared: "I am through with my father. This is something that has been brewing for years. We've never hit it off. My father knew when I was of age that I was going to leave home. In fact they (both her parents) both knew it. 'I wrote my mother from Europe and told her that I was going to leave on my arrival in the states and that I was not coming home.'"

Strike Has Little Effect On Mails

Strike of P. and L. E. Railroad employees, which has tied up that railroad, is having little effect on incoming and outgoing mail here. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today.

Some shipments are being trucked, while others are coming in via the B. and O. and Pennsylvania railroads, he stated.

Garden Notes For '50 Season

Strawflowers or everlasting are to be picked when the buds begin to open, tied loosely in bunches, and permitted to hang head down for several weeks while they dry.

Wisteria vines, if they have refused to bloom, may be root-pruned at this season. The plan may not prove successful but is worth trying.

Although this is a good time to plant evergreens, it is a mistake to think that they will grow in poor soil or exposed situations. They need good ground and some protection.

Deciduous hedges, particularly those of California privet, should be trimmed for the last time early this month.

Primroses should be set out this month to get well established before winter.

Day-lilies should be planted now. Old clumps should be divided and reset. If you can obtain some plant the new hybrids which offer new colors.

England Reports Russia Drafting German Workers

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Russia was reported by British Intelligence Thursday to have conscripted 300,000 Germans under "work or starve" orders in a "frantic" race to mine uranium ore in east Germany.

The British said that Moscow has ordered a speed-up in the digging operations and stepped up its forced labor calls.

The report said the Soviet drive to get the pitchblende out of the mines for the Kremlin's war machine has first call on all manpower, food and finances in the Russian occupation zone.

It said the workers—men and women between the ages of 17 and 50—are treated virtually like cattle. They are jammed in squalid barracks lacking sanitary facilities. Thousands are quartered in abandoned railway cars.

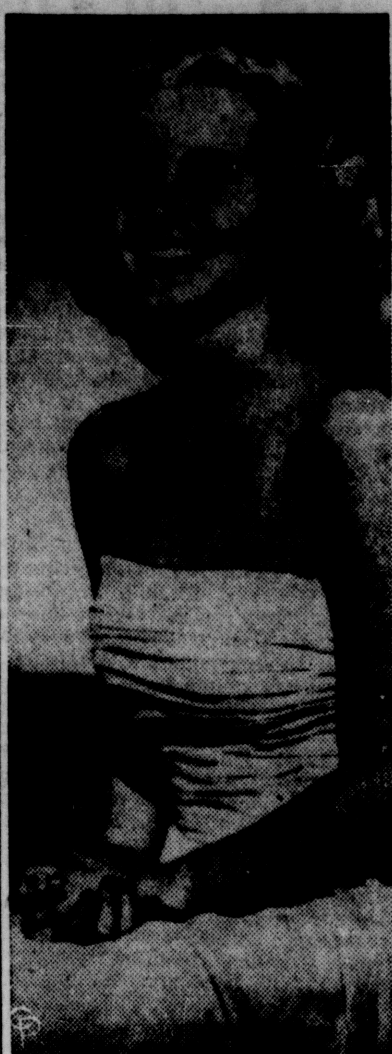

Sickness and accidents exact a heavy toll among the laborers because no safety measures are being taken.

The British reported that the drive to provide the Soviet Union with millions of tons of uranium ore is an integral part of the campaign "to exploit east German resources for the sole benefit of the Russian war machine."

Many workers, the report continued, are virtual slaves and most of the others are forcibly conscripted with "starvation as the only alternative."

The uranium mining operations have been expanded to five districts comprising a "state within a state" under direct Soviet direction as the men and women labor to satisfy the inexhaustible Russian demands for atomic-bomb material.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.—News-papemen who see Kirk Douglas impersonating one of their craft will have to look sharp to find any movie boners in "Ace In The Hole."

Director Billy Wilder, a stickler for realism and authenticity, tried to avoid any deviation whatsoever from bonafide journalistic technique in this picture of a crack reporter's handling of a big story. The director called in plenty of advisers to help him out on technicalities of newspapering.

Does Leg Work

First of all, Kirk spent three days actually doing leg work and subsequent re-write coverage of routine stories for the Los Angeles Evening Herald and Express. He worked under the supervision of City Editor Agnes Underwood.

Porter Hall, who plays Kirk's editor in the film, took his training in the city room of a Hollywood Daily, working with the managing editor.

To get an insight into the workings of western dailies, Wilder and Douglas spent considerable time in the offices of the Albuquerque Tribune, the Albuquerque Journal and the Gallup Independent when the company was on location in New Mexico.

Well Tutored
Editor Dan Burrows of the Tribune, Wayne Scott of the Journal and Joe Lawler of the Gallup newspaper did the tutoring and advising on such matters as how stories are filed to wire services, the approximate salaries paid reporters on such papers, where the newshawks come from and how they operate.

Marilyn Marsh of International News Service tutored Douglas in the mysteries of working a teletype printer. The actor picked it up in no time at all.

Incidentally, Wilder, himself, is an ex-journalist. And perhaps that is why he is taking such pains with "Ace In The Hole."

Rash Of Biographies
The rash of biographies up for consideration as film subjects continues in Hollywood with Amelita Galli-Curci, the great metropolitan soprano, the latest to offer her story to the screen.

Filming of "The Great Caruso" at M-G-M inspired the Galli-Curci script. Other biographies which may appear on celluloid include the life stories of Clara Bow, Theda Bara, Billy Rose, Mabel Norman, Mack Sennett, Mae Murray, George Jessel, Eddie Cahtor, General Douglas MacArthur and Jack Dempsey.

Besides the Caruso film, other bio-pictures in the making include "The Magnificent Yankee" (Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes), "The Story of Rudolph Valentino" and "Jim Thorpe—All American."

PERMIT REFUSED

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(INS)—State Sanitary Water Board has refused to issue operating permits to several state coal mining companies because acid mine waste from operations would contaminate the waterways along which they are located.

Among the applications turned down by the board, was one by the Boyles Coal and Supply Company of New Castle for a permit to operate along a tributary of Seaton Creek in Vanango Township, Butler county.

New York Stocks

Stock Market
Trend Is Lower

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(INS)—The stock market declined fractions to two points today. It was one of the sharpest sell-offs in weeks and reflected Wall street fears over the possibility of new war moves in the Far East.

Old-line industrial leaders were among the hardest hit. General Motors was off 1 3/4 at 88 3/8; Standard Oil of New Jersey was off 1 3/4 at 80 1/2; Chrysler off 1 1/2 at 67 3/8; U. S. Steel off 1 1/2 at 37 1/2; Westinghouse Electric off 1 at 31 1/2; and Bethlehem Steel off 3/4 at 41 1/2.

Motorola was a weak spot in the televisions, sagging 2 points to 41 1/4.

Specialty issues to show weakness included American Cyanamid down 1 at 40 3/8; off 1 1/2 at 63 1/2; and Sharon Steel Coppers were under pressure with Anaconda off 1 3/4 at 33 3/8; and Kennecott down 1 at 64 1/8.

Union Pacific was weakest among the rails, dropping 1 1/2 points to 97.

Curb stocks were mostly lower. Electric Bond and Share and Aluminum lost fractions, while Kaiser-Frazer was unchanged.

The bond market softened, with rail issues in supply.

Commodities were improved. Wheat was up 5/8, corn up 1/4 and cotton up 95 cents a bale.

Pittsburgh District

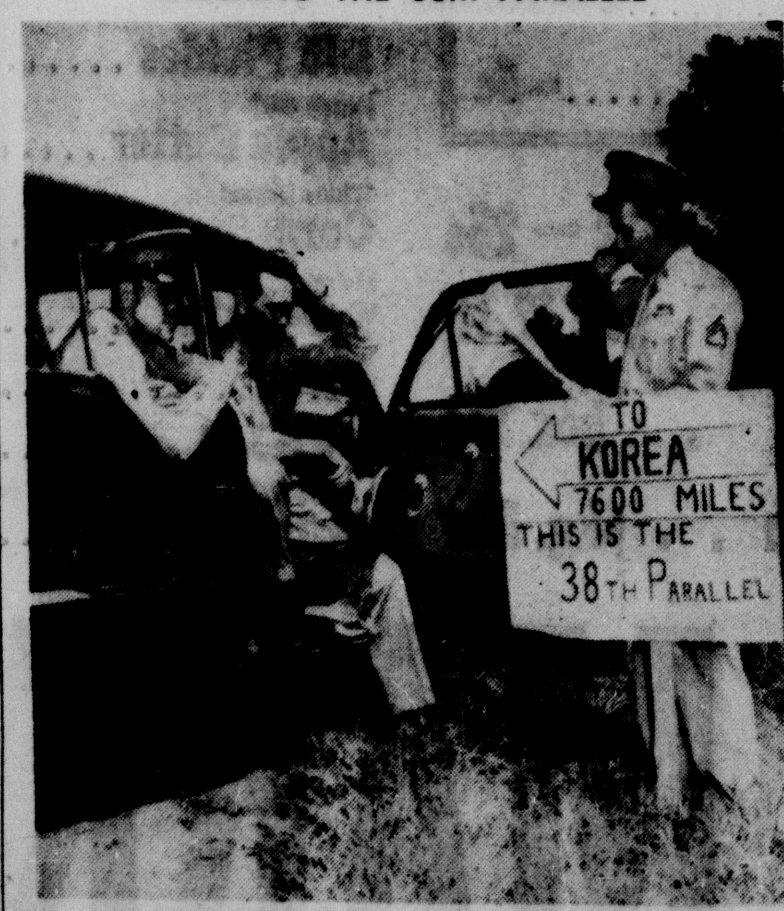

Business Shows Gain

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Business in the Pittsburgh district showed a moderate gain last week despite a slight drop in freight shipments.

The University of Pittsburgh Bureau of Business Research index jumped to 206.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average last week, as compared to 205.8 per cent the week before.

SOUTH KOREA—This is an aerial view looking south down the famous Naktong river on whose banks, 25 miles southwest of Taegu, now being evacuated, U. S. Marines and 25th Infantry Division troops are fighting one of the bloodiest battles of the war to eliminate a Red bridgehead. Violence of conflict is indicated by front line reports which state the river is running red with blood of North Korean Reds. In the photo above the bridge shown was still standing on August 11. The North Koreans are on the right bank, the UN forces on the left.

Study Pittsburgh
Security Measures

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—(INS)—A study was being made today of the need for more protection of Pittsburgh district industrial plants.

The Allegheny Council Civil Defense organization is seeking to determine the requirements for plant security. Although the survey is not complete, indications are there is a need for more plant guards.

A spokesman for the United States Steel Corporation said that large plants have already restored security measures taken during World War II.

He said U. S. Steel has increased police guards at gate who are requiring all workers to show badges and other identification when entering the mills.

About 1,000,000 Americans are temporarily or permanently disabled in traffic accidents each year.

Traffic deaths in America for May, 1950, amounted to 2,670, a 10 per cent increase over the 1949 total.

In The Open

With another football season but a few weeks away, the countryside has already donned the bright, colorful jacket which it will wear through the gridiron campaigning. Traditional fall colors at Outdoor University are blue and gold. Even now these colors dominate the wayside scene, with the asters and many of the goldenrods yet to be heard from. Every creekside tangle is alight with glowing masses of sunflower and trickles and fading black-eyed susans. Dusty roadsides wear a yellow hem of evening primrose while moist bottomlands and woodland edgings reflect the pale glow of the big yellow touch-me-not.

Chicory Along Roads

Chicory has hung out its blue banners along the country roadsides where it finds a limestone footing. Only the early riser knows the real beauty of this second cousin to our common dandelion. By mid-afternoon these gay blossoms have a dusty, bedraggled appearance, as though worn out from the heavy traffic. Seen in the early morning sunlight, with the dew still gleaming on the foliage, this humble immigrant bows to no flower.

The fisherman, off with the dawn to his favorite bass waters, knows the chicory well. When he sees these "blue sailors" glowing with early morning color "to match the sky" he can count on a good day along the stream. The chicory is a sun worshiper and refuses to display its blue beauty when skies are overcast.

Yellow Iron-Weed

The tall, nondescript-looking perennial with the rather unsightly yellow flowers now so common along roadsides and in fence rows, is known as yellow iron-weed. I spent several fruitless seasons trying to name this plant among the sunflowers, only to learn finally that it didn't belong in that select society. Everybody knows the tall purple iron-weed, now commencing to bloom in its chosen meadows, but its yellow namesake is usually rudely ignored.

Further supporting the blue motif in the wayside color scheme, the American bellflower leans out from shrubby roadside banks, displaying tall slender wands studded with the attractive blossoms. Along wet ditches and in marshy edgings the ragged-looking great lobelia adds perhaps the most striking blue to the outdoor picture.

Specialties in Blue

In the woodlands the retiring little fellows who haunt the shady places are now setting fruit, paving the way for newcomers to continue the scheme of things. I parked the car along a woodland road and stepped right into a large station of false spikenard, each plant laden with the speckled berries which will later turn ruby red. An occasional Mayapple hung in plump ripeness at my feet. Some folks like these fruits but I find them too sickeningly sweet for enjoyment.

Farther along on the same shady bank the Solomon's seal had hung blue-black berries like a string of Concord grapes beneath its graceful curving stem. The eye-catching floor was the white baneberry. I came across a whole colony of these interesting plants, each holding up its cluster of curious white berries with a dark spot on the end. They look almost exactly like china dolls' eyes and are certainly a handsome feature of the late-summer woodlands.

Season Right

The season has played into the hands of the many brightly colored members of the fungi tribes. These fellows are under foot everywhere in the woodlands. The big jack-o-lantern fairly lights up the forest aisles with its bright yellow by day, and glows with a faint phosphorescence that is quite startling during the dark hours. The mushroom hunter who knows his way around in this tricky company will have no trouble filling his basket this year.

Flares Into Brilliance

As August wheels down the road toward another September the sky show overhead flares into brilliance only equalled by the performance of the stars in February. Look down along the Milky Way one of these clear nights and there hangs the constellation known as this year.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS)—A registered lobbyist today for the third time defied a House committee by refusing to disclose the names of persons who made large purchases of books published by his organization.

Chairman Buchanan (D) Pa., said he will ask the House group to initiate congressional contempt proceedings tomorrow against Rumely and two other witnesses who refused to give information.

Head Of Stock Exchange Quits; Will Be Farmer

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange, is en route today to one of his farms at Peru, Ind., where he will devote himself to agriculture after quitting his $100,000 job in New York.

Robert P. Boydland, chairman of the exchange's board of governors, confirmed Schram's resignation last night.

Boydland will carry on the duties of the retiring president until a replacement is selected by the governors. Schram's resignation will be taken up by the board at its next meeting September 4. It will become effective November 1.

Classes Arranged For Minor Judiciary

Minor judiciary of Lawrence county held a meeting at the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, Croton avenue, at which time arrangements were completed by Harold W. Pierce, advisor of public institute of Harrisburg, to start a school for aldermen, justices of the peace and constables for the minor judiciary at the court house Wednesday, Sept. 6, at seven p. m., D.S.T.

Attorney Leroy Donaldson has been selected to teach the minor judiciary class. The course will consist of three-hour sessions each Wednesday evening until 24 sessions have been completed.

These lessons will deal with proper procedure in filling out various kinds of legal papers, and matters of this kind.

Arrangements should be made by each person to see that they have their books by September 6. Further information may be secured by contacting the secretary, Margaret M. Orres.

TWO SUITS IN TRESPASS

Two suits in trespass resulting from automobile collisions have been filed in the office of Prothonotary John A. Edgar.

William J. Zeigler has filed suit against the A. and B. Body Works and Jacob Kalajainen, growing out of a collision on the Ellwood City road March 30, 1950. Mr. Zeigler contends that Kalajainen, driving an automobile belonging to the A. and B. Body Works, made a left turn without warning, directly in front of his car, opposite the entrance to Morone's junk yard, as a result of which he sustained injuries of a permanent nature, suffered depreciation of his car and incurred great pain and suffering. He asks damages totalling $11,307.60.

James Hazen and Saline Hazen, his wife, of North Mercer street, have brought action against Edward W. Chadderton, trading as Ed. Chatterton Trucking, of Sharon, and Robert M. Bretz of Wilmington township, Lawrence county, growing out of a collision on West Grant street, on February 26, 1950. The plaintiffs contend that Bretz was driving his car in a reckless manner and ran into the rear of their car. They ask damages in the sum of $2,322.69.

Dr. E. L. Handy Will Leave Westminster

Dr. Everett L. Handy, director of graduate studies and head of summer school sessions at Westminster college, has resigned his position to accept a position as superintendent of schools at Duxbury, Mass.

Graduate students of the college presented Dr. Handy with a leather briefcase in recognition of his work at the college. Orlando Lucidore of New Castle made the presentation.

Hopkins Will Head Campaign At Westminster

Joseph M. Hopkins has been named director of the Westminster college centennial campaign, according to an announcement by Dr. Will W. Orr, president of the college.

Hopkins, a member of the Bible department at the college, is presently heading the field house campaign. His teaching duties will be cut to a minimum in order that he may devote full time to his new position.

The college begins its 90th year of operation this fall and plans a big celebration of its centennial in 1952. Highlighting the program is the biggest expansion program the college has ever undertaken. In addition to expansion projects underway, which include a new field house and a college manse, the college plans to have a new men's dormitory and a new science hall completed by 1952. The president's manse is expected to be completed by the end of the year and the field house is to be completed early this winter.

Orders Probe Of Drowning Of Woman

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25. — (INS)—Coroner Joseph Ominsky ordered a full investigation today into the drowning of a pretty 22-year-old WAVE whose body was found in a lagoon near the Philadelphia naval base where she was stationed.

The victim, Ann V. Barrett, an enlisted clerk from Denver, Colo., disappeared Monday night after leaving a group of friends at a tavern.

"I am convinced it was not suicide," said Ominsky following an autopsy that indicated death by drowning. "The case calls for a deeper investigation."

SOME RESPECT FOR LAW

LONG BEACH, Calif.—Two gunmen who stole $90 from liquor store owner John Burr yesterday evidently have some respect for the law, after all.

One of the bandits lifted a bottle of whiskey from the shelf and started to take a drink.

"Not here," cautioned his companion. "This is an off-sale place. It's against the law."

So the pair left—with the whiskey.

We're Sorry . . .

SORRY THAT RESTRICTIONS ON GAS HEATING MUST AGAIN BE IMPOSED BY THE MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT COMPANY

In planning in advance for the 1950-51 heating season, The Manufacturers Light & Heat Company estimated that 17,000 additional furnaces and burners would be connected to the Company lines during 1950. This sizable increase was possible because, working as fast as we could during the past year, we added $13,510,000 worth of transmission and distribution lines . . . compressor stations . . . gas storage fields, and we have a construction program for 1951 requiring approximately $11,120,000 for still further improvement.

IT'S A LONG-RANGE JOB

With almost five months of the year remaining, we now have approved just about all of the 17,000 additional installations that these new facilities make possible. We can't approve more than this number at this time because our available gas supplies are determined by long-range planning, engineering, and budgeting—and by contracts for delivery of more gas from the Southwest. Obviously, it is impossible to accomplish, in the short time before the heating season arrives, all that would be required to serve a greater number of heating customers than we anticipated.

We sincerely regret that we must take this step. But you will understand that in all fairness to customers already being served—as much as we regret the action—restriction is the only answer.

Therefore, in accordance with this Company's Rules and Regulations on file with the Public Service Commission, we will not approve any new gas heating installations except in cases of extreme hardship or in cases of new housing now under construction which is specifically designed for gas heating.

All applications for gas heating received will be filed in the order in which they are received. They will be approved in that order when conditions permit.

Terrific Pennant Races In Both Major Leagues Have Fans In Dither

Phils-Tigers Current Leaders

Indians-Brooks Are Edging Up

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(U. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The only safe prediction to make on the American League pennant race is that the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns aren't going to win it.

Otherwise, brother, you're going to run into a mess of trouble. Right now, we're heading for another photo-finish 49 with four, not just two, teams hampering the picture.

Detroit, New York, Cleveland, and Boston—take your pick. The Tigers are two and a half games up. Two percentage points are the difference between the second place Yankees and the third place Indians.

The Red Sox are the most powerful fourth-placers one can imagine, four and a half games away but really not so far.

The Tribe took a double win over the Washington Senators last night. Wynn won the opener, 3 to 1, for his fifteenth win of the season and twelfth out of his last thirteen starts. The righthander was helped by Larry Doby's 20th homer.

Then Lemon came on the scene to win his nineteenth game, 5-3, although he needed help from Al Benton and Sam Zoldak in the late stages.

Tigers Whip Yankees

The Tigers managed to salvage the last of their three-game set with the Yankees, by coming from behind to win out, 6 to 3. The Red Sox topped the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 2.

The super-charged Philadelphia Phillies were doing what they had to do to get that National League flag. They kept on winning. Rookie Rubba Church saw to it that the Whizzes stayed five games ahead by pitching them to a five-hit, 4 to 2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Brooks Win Two

The Brooklyn Dodgers were coming fast. They won their eighth straight by sweeping a two-night twin bill from the Cincinnati Reds, 1 to 0 and 7 to 2.

The New York Giants scored two runs in the ninth inning to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 2, and edge within a game of first division.

Chicago and Boston split a pair. The Braves won a bizarre first game 11 to 9. Both teams scored six runs in the last inning. The Cubs came back behind, Frank Hiller to win the nightcap, 4 to 3.

Official estimates placed the state's deer population at between 600,000 and 700,000 following the end of the deer season.

All-American Girls Play Here Tonight

Colleens Will Battle Springfield Sallies At Flaherty Memorial Field

New Castle baseball fans will welcome back to Flaherty field tonight those darlings of the diamond—the Chicago Colleens and the Springfield Sallies, members of the All-American Girls Professional Baseball League.

The weatherman willing, the game tonight will get under way at 8:15 o'clock. The Saturday night game will also start at 8:15. The girls have played to record crowds in all of the large cities.

Play Snappy Baseball

Last year the same two teams played a two-game series here and made a tremendous hit. They play a snappy brand of baseball, with 80-foot baselines and 55-foot pitching distance. The rules of the game are identical with men's baseball.

The idea of the barnstorming tour is to interest the fans in girls' baseball, to get new recruits for the league and to raise money for worthwhile charities.

Girls Can Try Out

Any local girl wanting a tryout can be at the field at 6:30 o'clock and report to Mitch Skupien, who is directing the girls' tour. The recruits are to bring spiked shoes and gloves. Salaries of the girls range from $55 to $100 per week depending on their ability to play baseball, age and length of service.

The girls are under the supervision of two chaperones—Pat Barrington for the Chicago Colleens and Barbara Liebrich for the Springfield Sallies. There is a lot of rivalry between the two teams and they strive to end the tour with the most victories.

Use 10-Inch Ball

The ball being used this year is a new 10-inch horseshoe covered ball patterned after the major league baseball. Last year the girls used a ball similar to a softball.

The girls play a schedule of 112 games, starting May 18 and ending Labor Day.

Prices for the girls game will be 25 cents for children under 12, $1 general admission and $1.25 for box seats. Reservations can be made by calling Flaherty field phone 2115.

New Wilmington Edges Vets, 2-1

Pulaski Defeats Volant Again, 5-0

New Wilmington edged No. 5 Vets 2-1, and Pulaski whipped Volant, 5-0, in North County league playoff games Thursday evening.

New Wilmington scored both of its runs in the fifth inning when A. Ratavsky walked and scored on McGinnis' double. McGinnis took third on the throw to the plate and scored on Kuhn's single to center.

The Vets scored in the third inning on Morgan's single, a walk, a fielder's choice and a long fly. Kuhn went the distance for New Wilmington and held the Vets to four hits. Labor went the route for the Vets and was touched for only five hits.

Third game of the series will be played tonight at No. 5 Mine. No results were received of the first game of the series and it is not known how the series stands.

Stranahan Meets Ward In Semi-Final Of Amateur Tourney

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Frank Stranahan, the Toledo muscle man, meets slender John Ward today in the 36-hole semi-finals of the 50th U. S. National Amateur Golf Tournament in Minneapolis.

It is the first time Stranahan has progressed that far in six tries for the title.

The other semi-final match pairs Sammy Uzzetta of Rochester, N. Y., a golfer who is better known as a star St. Bonaventure basketball player, against 36-year-old Bob Knowles of Boston, the oldest man left in the tournament.

Ward, a six-foot tall Clay, N. Y. lawyer, plays strong golf even though he scales only 135 pounds but Stranahan is the most prohibitive favorite since the days of Bobby Jones.

Plans For Softball Tourney Progress

Plans for district softball tournament in New Castle are progressing nicely, it is reported by N. Rhodes, co-chairman of the committee along with A. Benegasi.

Latest team to enter is the Westinghouse Electric team of Sharon.

Any other team wishing to enter the tournament should contact N. Rhodes, 7828-M, or A. Benegasi, 1087-J. There are already nine teams entered. Twelve to 16 teams is desired.

A meeting of representatives of teams entered will be held soon, it is announced.

Senators Lose To Erie, 7-4; Regain Second Spot In Loop

Whether or not New Castle's fiery young Senators can overtake the league leading Oil City Refiners depends largely on what happens in the next three days as the second place Senators open a three game series at Oil City.

The topsy-turvy Middle-Atlantic league pennant fight for positions in the playoff series, took a further kicking around last night as New Castle dropped to Erie 7-4. Niagara Falls blasted Oil City 13-1, and Youngstown swept a twin-bill at Butler 9-7, and 7-5.

Bad Sixth Inning

The Senators lost a golden opportunity to pick up ground last night, but the veteran Frank Wagner (11-6) trying for his 12th win, lost his stuff in the sixth inning and Erie tallied four runs to "ice" the game. New Castle had trouble hitting Rod MacKay with men on base, although they out-hit Erie 11 to 9. A homer by Kress in the third inning scoring Brewer ahead of him hurt the local cause.

The Senators fielded faultlessly turning in three lightning double-plays, two of them "around the horn," third to second to first.

Tommy Famiglietti Night

It is "Tommy Famiglietti Night" at Flaherty Field and the popular left-field star was presented with a cash gift of $100, by the Jefferson Athletic club and the merchants. Tommy responded with a big "thank you" and then proceeded to get himself four hits in five trips, batting in three runs.

Presentation to Famiglietti took place at home plate, with Lou Costa making the speech, and was flanked by Sammy Bullano and Tommy Leach, the other committee members. About 400 fans attended the game.

Robinson Meets Basora Tonight

State Welter
Crown At Stake

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—(INS)—Sugar Ray Robinson rules a heavy favorite over Puerto Rico's Jose Basora for a 15 round midweight bout tonight at Scranton.

Robinson, world welterweight king, defends his Pennsylvania midweight crown.

Basora, who battled Sugar Ray to a draw five years ago, not only hopes to go the limit but to score a victory over the Pennsylvania champion.

In their Philadelphia match, Basora felt he defeated Robinson and claimed a draw was called to save the champion.

Robinson confident the dusky Harlem fighter is confident of hammering Basora into defeat.

"I never felt better and I expect to beat him," he declared.

Robinson will stay in a hotel at nearby Wilkes-Barre until hustled into the Scranton stadium under the watchful eye of promoter Ernie Genell who remembers that Robinson sidestepped a match with Basora last month.

Robinson pleaded a back injury but three weeks later decided Charlie Fusari at Jersey City in a welterweight title bout.

Top Shooters At Vandalia, O.

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 25.—(INS)—Some 1,700 of the nation's top marksmen will take the firing line today for the Grand American Handicap title climax of the 51st annual Grand American Trapshooting meet at Vandalia.

Pete Donat of Anthwerp, O., is the defending champion, but the odds are against his keeping the title. No champion has ever taken top laurels twice in the tournament's history.

Chicago Bears Down Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Chicago's Bears held a 21-17 exhibition game victory over the Baltimore Colts today, thanks to the passing of Quarterback Johnny Lujack.

Lujack sat out the first half of the game to see the Colts take a 3-0 lead but came in for the last two periods to throw two touchdown passes, set up another score and add the three extra points.

Sam Snead Falters In Canadian Open

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—(INS)—"Where's Sammy?" was the cry today as second round play got underway in the triple-decked $10,800 Canadian Open golf tournament.

The slamming Mr. Snead was back in the pack with an opening round par 72.

Most of the record-breaking gallery of 3,500 followed the tournament's favorite and three-time winner yesterday, but Sam gave way to a good part of the rest of the field.

Two American pros and one Canadian shared first place.

Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., and Ed Furgol of Royal Oak, Mich. shot five-under-par 67's to share top spot with Canada's Len Harman of Knowlton, Quebec.

Although Pennsylvania hunters took a near-record number of deer in the 1949 season, commission researchers believe winter malnutrition die-offs of deer still are numerous.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

ABILENE, TEXAS, Blue Sox of the West Texas-New Mexico league, were forced to shed their new style uniforms—Shorts—in favor of the old-fashioned kind when mosquitos swarmed into the Abilene stadium recently. . . . If and when the World's series goes to Philadelphia, there will be no additional seats built in Shibe park, or erected within its enclosure, according to President Bob Carpenter. . . . Clem (Scooter) Koshorek, 24-year-old Flint, Mich., shortstop broke his arm when he stole his fortieth base of the season. . . . Lou Boudreau of the Indians, frequently unorthodox in managerial strategy, beat the Tigers August 14, when he used a left-handed batter, Dale Mitchell, to pinch hit for Bob Kennedy against Hal Newhouser. Dale hit the ball to short and Avila raced home ahead of the throw to the catcher. . . . Commissioner Happy Chandler will be honored by his home town, Cuydon, Ky., Saturday. . . . Up to August 16 Lefty Bob Schultz of Nashville won 20 games and bids likely to be the third pitcher to win 25 in the Southern Association in 22 years. . . . Plans for the World's series will be discussed September 15 in Commissioner Happy Chandler's Cincinnati offices. Two firms are bidding for the radio rights. . . . Hugh Keyes, manager of the Bisbee, Ariz., Legion team, directs plays from a wheel chair on the baseball field. He is a victim of polio. . . . Motion picture films of Little Baseball League for 8-12-year-olds are available in 16 mm size for showing at schools, clubs and churches. Requests should be addressed to Little Baseball League, Inc., Williamsport, Pa. Sign in a combined Bev-Eat parlor reads: "Stealberger sandwich." Apparently the "printer" doesn't like a "k" and favors an "e" more than a "u" in "burger". However, the errors do not lessen the quality of the sandwich. . . . Jake McCracken of Harlansburg herded his bovines into the barn early Monday, milked double quick then went to see the Pirates at Forbes field.

GEORGE CHIP, ex-champ, got a "kick" out of watching television at the Leslie several nights ago. During one boxing bout, Sam Taub, the announcer, suddenly reported: "This boy's aggressive style reminds me of George Chip when George was in his prime." A thrill also came to his son, George Jr., when he was with the armed forces in Australia. One night he went to a movie and was no sooner seated than there was flashed on the screen motion pictures of his father upholding his prestige in the ring.

Jim Hodge, the Harlansburg outdoorsman, found a cat eating a Screech Owl recently. According to Owen Fox, a Screech Owl dines on wire worms and rodents. The wire worms, according to Fox, are very destructive to plant life. Rodents which the Screech Owl clutch are killed, and often stored in tree holes for winter, when food is difficult to find. The owl then drags the rodents from the hole for dinner. . . . Del Crandall, 20-year-old catcher with the Braves, has been classified 1-A for military service by his Culterton, Calif., draft board. . . . Joe Rick's string of paces and trotters are campaigning at Northville, Detroit. The biggest Northerner caught by E. Gene Schweinsberg weighed six pounds. That is the average weight of pike taken from Beverly lake. . . . Jack Christie and the Mrs. have returned from a motor trip through the New England states. . . . Regarding snakes which are reported to swallow their young when danger is near, Donohue's History of Wild Animals records De Beauvais as stating he witnessed a rattlesnake swallow her young on two occasions when danger confronted the reptile. . . . Rex Hughes, city electrician, also reports that when he was a boy on his grandfather's farm, near Ellwood City, he saw a watersnake in a pond also swallow its young.

A golfer's dream has come true for Teddy McCandlish, 20-year-old assistant pro at the Washington Golf and Country club. McCandlish scored a hole-in-one recently on the front nine and then, figuring the one good turn deserves another, repeated on the back nine. A No. 7 iron made the first ace on the 186-yard second hole and a No. 8 iron scored on the 174-yard eleventh hole. His 18-hole score was 69.

Leaders Wonder At Rally Causes

Speculation On Whether Gen. Strickler Will Stay In Command

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Republican leaders are wondering what sparks the comparative large turnouts at political rallies staged by Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Richardson Dilworth in normally Republican communities. . . . Dilworth's thumping campaign tactics, which helped him when he campaigned among metropolitan-minded voters, have been toned down but Republicans do not believe he has hit upon any secret for appealing to voters beyond the metropolitan areas. . . . It may be, they have reasoned, that Dilworth's political color plus the fact that he is the only major candidate hitting the campaign trail probably is the reason for the turnouts. If true, however, the reasoning is at variance with consistent field reports that the fighting in Korea has taken the edge off political interest. . . . activation of Republican campaign headquarters at Harrisburg is the forerunner to well-planned campaign swings by major GOP candidates which are calculated to blunt Dilworth's progress.

Since the 28th Division was alerted for induction into federal service September 5 there has been considerable speculation whether Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, of Lancaster, will be retained as commanding general if the outfit is sent overseas. . . . the 53-year-old Strickler is eminently qualified for an overseas command but faces the probability that the policy on National Guard commanding officers followed by the Army in World War II may be continued in the Korean emergency. . . . The Army sent but one division overseas under a National Guard officer's command in the last war. . . . The 28th was taken to Louisiana by then Maj. Gen. Edward Martin who remained in command until training was completed and then was retired because he had reached maximum age in grade.

Behind the scenes of the reorganization of the Pennsylvania Federation of Young Republicans there was some bitterness prior to the election of a new chairman. . . . Allegheny county delegates, produced by old line young, GOP leader Adelaide Rigby Conly, threatened to jump the reservation the night before the election because their candidate, James Gleason, had been left out on the doorstep by slatemakers. . . . There was talk among some hotheads of boycotting the convention but nothing came of it. . . . Mrs. Conly, wife of Public Utility Commissioner John B. Conly, burned up the long distance wires in an attempt to get State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and Governor Duff to intervene on behalf of Gleason. . . . Taylor and Duff were not available. . . . When the smoke cleared, Gleason gracefully nominated the slatemakers' choice for chairman, Kenneth M. Shirk, who was elected unanimously. . . .

The State Civil Service commission lacks a director as allowed under the act and the AFL-Pennsylvania State Employees Council No. 26 wants something done about it. . . . Chairman of the agency is George Young, of Washington, long-time friend of U.S. Sen. Edward Martin and one-time chief of the school commission. . . . The council wants legislation to assure the appointment of a director which will be charged with administration and enforcement of the acts. . . . Penalties for violation of Civil Service acts, particularly where veterans preference is concerned, also will be sought by the council. . . . Civil service for state employees long has been a legislative hot potato. . . . There has never been any strong desire to extend coverage beyond those state agencies where it is mandatory because they handle federal funds.

Sarver Youth Wins Grand Championship Honor In Pig Show

PITTSBURGH, August 25 — (INS)—Marvin Curfman, 13, of Sarver, Pa., now holds the grand championship honors in the 11th annual Western Pennsylvania junior pig show and sale.

Master Curfman copped high honors with a 280-pound purebred Hampshire which also took top honors in the heavyweight class. It was a repeat performance for the lad who walked off with the grand championship three years ago at the 1947 show.

Last year Marvin's sister, Faye, took the grand championship. And it was the fourth year in a row that one of Butler County's 4-H'ers finished in first place.

Lyle McSparran, of Oil City, won the Reserve Grand Champion with his 235-pound Hampshire, which also was awarded first place in the light heavyweight class.

Top animals sold for 27 cents a pound.

First place in other weight divisions went to James Compton of Saltsburg, for the medium weight class, and Elmer Beardsall, Clintonville, for lightweights.

Some 170 boys and girls who raised hogs as their 4-H or FFA livestock projects entered 306 animals in the show.
